U.S. RECOGNIZES SOVIET GOVERNMENT

Washington and Moscow To Have Ambassadors Soon

President Roosevelt, Following Negotiations With Litvinoff, Announces Resumption of Normal Relations Between Two Republics

W. C. BULLITT TO GO TO RUSSIA

Associated Press
Washington, Nov. 17.—President Roosevelt announced to-day the United States has agreed to resume normal relations with Russia and will exchange ambassadors.

He has designated William C. Bullitt to be the first United States envoy to Russia in sixteen years.

The president said agreement on recognition had been reached at ten minutes before last midnight, and he made public a series of letters exchanged between himself and Maxim Litvinoff covering the principal points on which the governments wished to reach an accord.

VARIED QUESTIONS
These letters, sketched in brief by Mr. Roosevelt, covered such questions as propaganda, religious freedom, legal protection of nationals of the respective nations, the subject of prosecutions for economic espionage, and claims. The Russian government agreed to waive all claims arising out of the Siberian expedition after the Bolsheviks came into power.

In connection with the naming of Bullitt, the President said his name would be submitted to Moscow for approval. Bullitt has played a foremost part in negotiations which have bridged a diplomatic chasm which began when the Soviet government surmounted the old Kerensky regime.

OUTSTANDING CLAIMS
A joint statement in addition to the letters and memoranda exchanged by M. Litvinoff and President Roosevelt said:

"In addition to the agreements which we have already signed to-day, there has taken place an exchange of views with regard to methods of settling all outstanding questions of international law."

PREMIER'S ORDER ENDS INTERVIEW
"Show Mr. Smith Out," Says Mr. Bennett, and Labor Defence League Delegation Leaves His Office

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Nov. 17.—"Show Mr. Smith out," said the Premier, Mr. Bennett, today, when he abruptly ended an interview given to the Canadian Labor Defence League to-day. It followed efforts on the part of Joseph S. Wallace of Montreal to engage Mr. Bennett in an argument over contents of the memorandum which that organization had submitted.

The "Mr. Smith" referred to was A. E. Smith, secretary of the "Eastern Canada Congress for the Repeal of Section 98 of the Criminal Code." He was present with the delegation, but Mr. Wallace acted as spokesman.

MRS. TIM BUCK PRESENT
The men members of the delegation, six in all, then filed out, while a further interview was granted the two women members, Mrs. Tim Buck and Mrs. Sam Cohen. The latter, voicing anxiety over the fact her husband had been put into the isolation prison, was invited by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, who received the party with the Prime Minister, to visit the Kingston penitentiary and see for herself the conditions that existed. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

JAPAN SHIP AND CREW MISSING
Osaka, Nov. 17.—The Japanese freighter, Seta Maru, 4,445-ton vessel, was believed to have sunk to-day with a crew of thirty in a storm off the Itoya Islands.

Another steamer, responding to an SOS call, picked up one survivor, but the freighter had disappeared.

SEEK BODY OF ABDUCTED MAN

Dragging Operations By San Francisco Police Recover Part of Clothing

Associated Press
San Jose, Calif., Nov. 17.—Efforts to recover the body of Brooke L. Hart, which authorities said would complete the case against the alleged abductors and slayers, were pressed by state and federal authorities to-day.

John M. Holmes, twenty-nine, and Thomas H. Thurmond, twenty-eight, who, Department of Justice agents and state officials said, confessed to throwing Hart in San Francisco Bay after abducting him, were held in a San Francisco jail.

Grappling hooks brought up a strip of white cloth with thin purple stripes from the bay near the place the two men were quoted as saying they tossed the twenty-two-year-old San Jose store executive. Attached to the strip was what officials said "looked like a piece of human flesh." The cloth and flesh were brought to San Francisco, where the latter will be analyzed to-day.

Authorities said the material matched the description of a shirt Hart was wearing when he vanished shortly before a $40,000 ransom demand was made by telephone to his family November 8.

Confronted yesterday with news of the death of their son, Alex Hart, wealthy merchant, and his wife collapsed, while the youth's younger brother and sister were prostrated by the news.

DESCRIBES DEATH RIDE
Thurmond's confession, which police said was signed yesterday, said that Holmes first approached him five or six weeks ago with a plan to kidnap young Hart and they plotted to seize him. Last Thursday they saw Hart go to the beach.

$5,000 BLOCK OF BONDS SOLD
Another $5,000 block of the city's re-funding bond issue was disposed of for cash to-day, bringing the total sales to date to $107,400.

Treasury officials stated the sale is fairly active with new applications each day. It is possible the finance committee will decide to reserve a block of the bonds for the convenience of small investors from time to time. Denominations down to $100 were printed.

NAMES WILL BE DELETED

Voters Who Took Improper Affidavits to Be Struck Off List

Approximately twenty names will be struck off the city voters' list next Monday through non-payment of road and poll taxes by the voters concerned. It was learned at the City Hall.

The Court of Revision will sit on Monday morning to deal with the list. The cases in question are of those who took affidavits declaring they had paid the tax, but who, upon investigation, were found not to have done so.

Application by those who are not on the list but should be, may be made to the court and proof of the list have been posted at the entrance to the City Hall for the convenience of voters who wish to ascertain if they are registered.

GREAT DRAIN ON FRENCH TREASURY

Paris, Nov. 17.—Crumbling French finances, Finance Minister Georges Bonnet revealed to-day, threaten to empty the treasury before the end of the year.

The minister told the Radical-Socialist group of the Chamber of Deputies that while the Bank of France was losing three-fourths of a billion francs in gold from the treasury, it also had been obliged to reimburse for three-fourths of a billion francs in bonds—more than were renewed.

"At that rate," he said to-day, "the treasury will soon be exhausted" unless confidence is restored by balancing the budget.

New Government Department To Aid B.C. Cities

Plans Well Ahead For Creation of B.C. Ministry of Municipalities

Hon. A. Wells Gray Studies Similar Plans of Other Provinces

Plans connected with the department of municipalities for the creation of which authority will be sought by the British Columbia government at the next meeting of the Legislature are being drafted by Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, and are rapidly approaching the stage where he will be able to make complete recommendation to the cabinet.

Greater service and greater co-operation between the government and the municipalities is the aim of the proposed new department, Mr. Gray explained this morning. Savings in marketing their bonds will be effected by the cities, Mr. Gray forecast, and assistance will be rendered to them in many other ways. This does not mean the government will guarantee the bonds of the municipalities, Mr. Gray added, but with all the services of the government at their disposal the cities can be guided in their financing.

DEFINITE FUNCTIONS
The minister has already made a study of the operations of departments of municipalities of other provinces of Canada, including Saskatchewan and Manitoba. The department to be established in British Columbia will have definite functions which will be approved of by the Legislature. From time to time as it becomes apparent, it is necessary these powers will be extended.

The relations of the government and the municipalities are now scattered among the attorney-general's, provincial secretary's, finance, public works and other departments. With a department of municipalities created co-ordination would be possible so that all affairs of municipalities could be dealt with by one department. It would not entail the creation of a new expensive department as the machinery for its operation is already on hand.

Through the departments mentioned the department of municipalities could provide the information necessary to guide the municipalities in any of their undertakings. The services of the finance department, for instance, Mr. Gray mentioned could be secured.

POOR LITTLE RICHEST GIRL

On November 23, Doris Duke will awake to find herself the richest girl in the world. On that day she will inherit the fortune of between $50,000,000 and $85,000,000 left by her father, James B. Duke, the tobacco king.

Wealth has already restricted her liberty. She cannot go out more than once with any one man. When she walks on the street she is trailed by her Dusenberger town car with a chaperone in the back and a detective in front.

The story of this "poor little richest girl" will be printed as a feature of the Magazine Section of The Victoria Daily Times to-morrow.

Other features of the Saturday Magazine Section will include: How France, with a $150,000,000 ring of trenches de luxe of steel and concrete, will bar foes from French soil, illustrated by a sketch plan of the new fortifications.

BRITISH POUND CLOSES AT $5.15

Canadian Press
New York, Nov. 17.—The Canadian dollar finished trading on the exchange market here to-day at a 2 per cent premium, of half a cent. That was the rate paid by buyers, sellers receiving 101 1/4 cents in United States money for their dollar.

The pound sterling and the French franc were under pressure in late dealings on the market and closed with substantial losses. Sterling closed at $5.15 for a net loss of 1 1/2 cents. The French franc closed at 63.1 for a net loss of .12 of a cent.

Value of the United States dollar at the closing, as measured by the French gold franc, was 62 1/2 cents. In early trading to-day the Canadian dollar climbed 1 1/4 cents to 103 1/4 cents, highest mark since 1893, and then easing back to 102 1/2 cents. At the close it was $1.02.

The pound sterling, which tumbled yesterday from a high of $5.22 1/2 to $5.20, came back to $5.21 in early trading. It fell in late deals.

New York, Nov. 17.—Wall Street has noticed in the last day or two a sudden reappearance of foreign buying in United States securities.

While a trickle of funds back in this direction, after the substantial outflow of recent weeks, may seem inconsistent with street experts' say there are very good reasons for it.

In the first place, United States securities have become very much cheaper in terms of foreign currencies. Some banking quarters in Wall Street have also reported that certain British (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

CHECK SAANICH RELIEF BILLS

Inspector For Government Will Report on Disputed Cases

As the outcome of disputes between Saanich Municipality and government officials in charge of appointment of unemployment relief an inspector is checking over the payments made by the municipality and will report his findings to Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor.

The amount involved is reported to be not large, but the charge has been made that in one or two instances men in the municipality who have earned from other sources more than the amount they are permitted to earn and still draw relief have been paid relief checks by Saanich. The municipality has afterwards applied to the government for the amount it contributes.

Whether in the instances under review the municipality was acting under instructions of a minister of the former government is one of the points in dispute.

CHECK OF EARNINGS
It is pointed out by relief officials that unless the careful check of earnings of men applying for relief is made, a considerable sum is involved throughout the whole province. Declarations have to be taken at least once a month by municipal officials of the earnings of applicants for relief. Where the applicant has earned an amount greater than that which entitles him to receive a relief cheque the municipality has not the right to call for the two-thirds proportion which the Dominion and provincial governments contribute.

British M.P.'s Take Four-day Holiday After Long Session

Disarmament Declaration Is Made in Prorogation Speech; New Session Schedule to Begin Next Tuesday

By GEORGE HAMILTON Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, Nov. 17.—"Work for international disarmament by agreement between the nations must be vigorously pursued," declared the speech from the Throne at the prorogation of the Parliament of Great Britain to-day.

It set the keynote of British policy in the present disarmament crisis, when the fate of the World Disarmament Conference, opened so auspiciously at Geneva more than twenty-one months ago, hangs in the balance.

While Parliament prorogued, Britain's Secretary and Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Sir John Simon and Captain Anthony Eden, rushed to Paris and Geneva for talks with the French, United States and probably Italian disarmament delegates, which to-morrow will see beginning of a supreme effort to get Germany back into the discussions.

CROSS THE FLOOR
And with disarmament's impasse looming over the House, there was a development of first importance within the House itself as it closed a session of close to twelve months—only for an English week-end, for the new session will open next Tuesday.

This was the long-expected withdrawal by Sir Herbert Samuel's group of thirty Liberals of support from the National government. The party split when the National government was formed. Sir John Simon leading a group into the government, Sir Herbert's section remained benevolently neutral. Now, completely dissatisfied with the government's disarmament and domestic policies, Sir Herbert's Liberals are joining the Opposition. They cannot shake the government's ponderous majority, however.

NEW SESSION NEXT WEEK
To-day's prorogation proceedings were brief as the technical limit of the session was observed, with only four days to come before the King in the splendor of state will open the new session.

As Result of Speedy Work By Guardians of Law G. Crowley Appears in Police Court in Calgary While Officer Leaves Vancouver to Accompany Him to Coast; Arrest of Another Man Follows

Story of Shooting Affray Near Ashcroft

Canadian Press
Calgary, Nov. 17.—Two men were held by Calgary police to-day for Vancouver authorities in connection with the $3,500 Bank of Montreal hold-up in the coast city last Monday. The men are George Crowley, twenty-two, of South Vancouver, and Kenneth John Feakins, also of Vancouver.

George Crowley, thirty-one, of South Vancouver, was in custody in Calgary to-day as the result of a police hunt following the robbery of the Victoria Drive branch of the Bank of Montreal in Vancouver last Monday, when three men escaped with $3,500 after holding up the bank staff, according to an announcement by the British Columbia provincial police here.

The detention of Crowley followed quick work on the part of Sgt. W. J. Service of the provincial police at Kamloops.

Two men boarded a Canadian Pacific passenger train at Savona on Wednesday carrying a roll of bills. One of the men asked the conductor for a ticket to Winnipeg and the second man a ticket for Calgary. The conductor informed the men he could only sell them tickets to Kamloops, the end of his run. At Kamloops, one of the men paid for a ticket to Calgary and the other a ticket to Medicine Hat, police report.

The conductor, becoming suspicious, notified Sgt. Service, who immediately flashed the information over the provincial police radio to headquarters at Victoria. From here, Vancouver and Calgary police were notified, with the result that Crowley was taken into custody at the last point.

STORY OF SHOOTING
Asked where his partner was, Crowley asked if the police had not heard of the shooting near Ashcroft, where a car had been run over a bluff. This angle the provincial police are now investigating.

Police while inclined to doubt the shooting story told by Crowley, say it may account for the absence of the third bank robber. The possibility of a stolen eight-cylindered automobile used to make the getaway from Vancouver, a quarrel near Ashcroft, with the subsequent shooting and destruction of the car by being driven over a precipice, is not being overlooked.

Three men were implicated in the robbery of the bank in Vancouver, but only two got on the train at Savona, which is between Ashcroft and Kamloops.

SERGEANT'S WORK COMMENDED
Much credit is given Sgt. Service for his prompt work in handling the case, less than half an hour elapsing between the time he was tipped off at Kamloops and his arrest in Calgary. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

SILVER PLAN IN U.S. ADVOCATED

Washington, Nov. 17.—The United States monetary developments were added to-day a prediction by Senator Key Pittman, Nevada Democrat, long an advocate of silver re-estimation, that President Roosevelt will take the initiative in the restoration of silver.

"He has under consideration now various plans to accomplish this," said Pittman in a speech for the monetary conference called to-day by Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oakland, and Senator Smith, South Carolina Democrat. "One plan I have submitted to him for his consideration. Pittman continued, 'is the opening of the mine of the United States to the coinage of silver produced in the United States.' From the White House, there had come no indication Mr. Roosevelt favored this plan above the many others he is studying."

B.C. Anniversary Is Observed In Schools

IN FIELD EARLY FOR ELECTION

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 17.—The seventy-fifth anniversary of the organization of the colony of British Columbia was observed to-day in Vancouver schools. The crown colony was founded November 19, 1858.

Discovered by the Spaniard Perez in 1774, British Columbia's mainland was not formed into a colony until 1858, following discovery of gold and an influx of prospectors. Prior to that time it had been ruled for many years by the Hudson's Bay Company.

British Columbia was not linked with the Colony of Vancouver Island until 1864.

The province was born in the presence of about 100 persons at New Fort Langley, a few miles up the Fraser River from the present site of New Westminster. Matthew Begbie, newly appointed chief justice of British Columbia, administered the oath of allegiance and read the Queen's commission appointing James (later Sir James) Douglas, chief factor of the fur company, governor. At that time, Douglas was also Governor of Vancouver Island, which had become a crown colony in 1849.

NEW MINISTER AT CONVENTION

Vancouver, Nov. 17.—This forenoon's session of the western meeting of the Canadian Teachers' Association and the Mining Association of British Columbia, was attended by Hon. George S. Pearson, British Columbia's minister of mines. But he did not take part in the discussion.

The convention considered "ethics" of the profession under several headings.

The Roman attitude toward mines in conquered territory Dr. Rickard said, was always to get as much treasure out of a mine as quickly as possible. They cared nothing for exploration and development, believing that miners, like vegetable matter, grew while at rest and that a mine abandoned for a time would grow richer in metal.

Dr. Rickard, mining engineer and scholar, addressing delegates to the annual western meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy at the Mining Association of British Columbia on Roman mining, showed British Columbia mining men some of the beginnings of the profession.

St. John, N.B., Nov. 17.—Forty thousand cases of liquor destined to provide Christmas cheer for thirsty United States citizens are likely to be shipped through St. John early in December, it was learned to-day.

President Roosevelt has so far declined to give any intimation as to when the United States embargo against liquor importation will be removed. Removal, however, is expected to coincide with repeal ratification on or about December 5.

United States steamship lines are understood to have refused to carry the wet goods that must leave Great Britain now if they are to reach the United States the first week in December.

ROMAN AND B.C. MINING TOPIC

Dr. T. A. Rickard of Victoria Addresses Convention in Vancouver

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 17.—In a vivid word picture of the days of Rome's victorious legions, when miners toiled underground chased ill-fated and with the crudest of implements, Dr. T. A. Rickard of Victoria turned back the pages of history 2,000 years in an address here yesterday evening.

Dr. Rickard, mining engineer and scholar, addressing delegates to the annual western meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy at the Mining Association of British Columbia on Roman mining, showed British Columbia mining men some of the beginnings of the profession.

The Roman attitude toward mines in conquered territory Dr. Rickard said, was always to get as much treasure out of a mine as quickly as possible. Proposed undertakings could first be placed by the department in the public works department to report on their advisability. If approved and the work undertaken it would strengthen the municipalities department by providing it with a department to borrow money for the undertaking to announce that it had the approval of the British Columbia government. This might also act as a brake against cities embarking on expenditures which were unjustified, but which members of local governing bodies for various reasons might not choose to oppose.

DEALERS SURPRISED

New York, Nov. 17.—U.S. Government bonds sagged a little further at New York to-day, but the volume of selling in federal issues was but a fraction of yesterday's.

STEVENS GOES TO ENGLAND

Canadian Press
Montreal, Nov. 17.—On a trip to England for his health, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, sailed from here to-day on the liner Duchess of York.

"I am going over for a holiday," said Mr. Stevens. "I will be a rest with no business at all."

Mr. Stevens was asked if his trip had anything to do with the question of Russian lumber imports into Great Britain. "No, no business at all," he replied.

OTAWA, NOV. 17.—HON. H. STEVENS, MINISTER OF TRADE AND COMMERCE, LEFT TO-DAY FOR ENGLAND. HE IS LEAVING A STRICTLY PRIVATE HOLIDAY ON THE ADVISORY OF HIS PHYSICIAN. HE WILL BE AWAY FOR ABOUT A MONTH.

Mr. Stevens has been very closely confined to his public duties for the last three years. He underwent a serious major operation in the early part of 1931, and although he has not been in the best of health for some time, he has carried on his public work.

MR. LITVINOFF WILL REMAIN IN WASHINGTON FOR SEVERAL DAYS FOR FURTHER DISCUSSIONS

During the President's conference with the press at which he announced resumption of Russo-American relations, he was asked whether his announcement amounted to a formal recognition or whether that would not take place until there had been an exchange of ambassadors. The President regarded this as a technicality and repeated, normal relations had been resumed at ten minutes before last midnight.

British M.P.'s Take Four-day Holiday

The speech from the Throne declared that the government have throughout taken an active part in the Disarmament Conference and the British draft presented March 18 was adopted as the basis for a proposed convention. I earnestly trust the difficulties which have since arisen may be surmounted.

The withdrawal of Germany a month ago from the deliberations at Geneva necessarily dislocated the programme, but work for international disarmament by agreement between the nations must be vigorously pursued.

ECONOMIC CONDITIONS

Of the internal situation the speech said: "The continued willingness of my people to bear heavy sacrifices has made it possible for this country almost alone among the great countries of the world to maintain a satisfactory balance between its national income and expenditure."

Then following the traditional procession back to the Commons, for a smiling handshake with the Speaker, and it was home again for the members.

It was yesterday evening Sir Herbert made his long-expected announcement of the Liberals' intention to cross the floor when the new session opens. When Parliament resumes next Tuesday the Conservatives will take their seats on the second Opposition bench to the Gangway, which thus separates them from the Labor Opposition.

to a parking lot for his rooster, and as he drove to the street Holmes, holding his hand in his pocket as if concealing a revolver, stepped into the car. On the street, Thurmond said he followed in another automobile. They drove to a point about six miles from San Mateo, he said, where they left Hart's rooster and all got into the car. Holmes and Thurmond then drove about a half mile out on the San Mateo Bridge, crossing San Francisco Bay and there stopped, Thurmond said.

HOLMES TOLD HART TO GET BEHIND THE AUTOMOBILE AND THEN HE GOT TO THE REAR OF HART.

Thurmond's confession said, "He struck Hart over the head with a brick. Hart cried 'Help! Help!' So Holmes struck him again and he fell unconscious."

BODY THROWN INTO BAY

Thurmond said he took some wire he had purchased for fifty-five cents and bound Hart's arms to his body, and with Holmes holding the upper part of the body and he the legs, they lifted the youth to the bridge rail, and tossed him into the bay, where he struggled a little.

AN HOUR LATER, THURMOND DECLARED, HE CALLED THE BOY'S FATHER FROM A SAN FRANCISCO HOTEL AND DEMANDS RANSOM

Thurmond said he called the boy's father from a San Francisco hotel and demanded ransom of $40,000 "or you won't see your boy alive again," the confession said. The next day he went to Sacramento and mailed a ransom letter to the Harris. The following day he mailed another letter of instructions from San Francisco.

Twice, the confession said, they tried by telephone calls to get Hart to pay the ransom, but he refused until they could show some proof of his son's presence in the deal. Wednesday evening, the statement said, Thurmond was calling from a garage with further directions about delivering the money, in a satchel when Sheriff W. J. Emig crashed in and pulled him from the telephone booth.

At short time later Holmes was arrested at his hotel.

BROKE DOWN

Throughout Wednesday night questioning of the men continued. Both denied any knowledge of the kidnapping. Officers said, until they became involved in their own stories and finally admitted confessions.

Thurmond and Holmes were held in a San Francisco jail booked "en route to San Jose," and Sheriff Emig declared they would not be returned to San Jose "until the clamor down there subsided."

It was the close watch the telephone company kept on calls to the Hart home that resulted in Sheriff Emig rushing to the booth where Thurmond was telephoning.

SETTLEMENT PLAN DEBATED

Canadian Press
Lethbridge, Alta., Nov. 17.—Following the statement by Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Secretary for the Dominions, in the British House of Commons Tuesday that no settlers were likely to proceed to Canada for some time under the so-called Hornby scheme, Brig-Gen. M. L. Hornby, just arrived home after an extended visit to Great Britain and eastern Canada, yesterday issued the following statement:

"I have repeatedly stated the reason why immediate migration is not possible is that previous preparations for establishing migrants in self-supporting homes on the land in Canada must be made before migrants can be sent over from England. For more than two years I have been urging England to adopt an organized plan of settlement and to commence the necessary previous preparations.

"In Canada active steps are being taken to meet the situation. In five out of Canada's nine provinces locations have already been selected for co-operation of the provincial governments concerned, for Old Country community settlements under the Hornby plan and reports and surveys are now being completed. Preliminary reports will reach England before Christmas. Detailed reports and surveys will follow shortly afterwards. Thus Canada has

England to Canada, but the reason for this should be clearly understood by all concerned.

The scheme Brig-Gen. Hornby advocates is before a committee of the British Commons for consideration.

U.S. RELIEF BOARD TO BUY CATTLE

Associated Press
Washington, Nov. 17.—The Federal Surplus Relief Corporation yesterday decided to purchase $500,000 worth of cattle from ranges in Texas, paying farmers a minimum of $1.75 per 100 pounds.

Administrator Harry H. Hopkins also let it be known he planned to buy coal for distribution to the needy.

More than 32,000 women work in India's mines.

BIG CURRENCY FIGHT IS SEEN

Associated Press
London, Nov. 17.—The financial editor of The London Daily Herald said in an article yesterday that Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, and Clement Moret, governor of the Bank of France, were co-operating in a determined fight to defeat President Roosevelt's monetary plans.

The financial editor said the bank heads interpreted President Roosevelt's policy as a deliberate attempt to force France off the gold standard and create a dollar dictatorship as a prelude to establishing a new world-wide currency system and obtaining control of the international gold market.

Dean Defends Students' Work

Dr. R. W. Brock of U.B.C. Addresses Mining Convention in Vancouver

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 17.—Dean R. W. Brock of the faculty of applied science at the University of British Columbia indignantly replied to criticisms of students and administration of the institution in address yesterday before delegates attending the western meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy and the Mining Association of British Columbia. Reports the university students were "loafers" were without foundation, Dean Brock said.

"Proof of their worth is seen when they take up post-graduate work in other institutions and are reported to be the best from all colleges," he said.

Few people, he continued, had an opportunity to see the students at work and often misconstrued the actions of colleagues seen outside of university hours.

UNIVERSITY COSTS
Perusal of the Canadian Year Book, where university costs in various provinces were mentioned, would quickly refute arguments that British Columbia was spending too much on its university, the speaker added.

As to statements that the majority of university graduates left Canada, Dean Brock cited figures to show only eight per cent of the total number of graduates were outside the Dominion and a large number of these were women students who had married or post-graduate workers, who intended to return to their native land as soon as possible.

SLEEPING SICKNESS EXPERIMENTS MADE

Associated Press
New York, Nov. 17.—Discovery in the blood of St. Louis sleeping sickness conveyance of substances which protect mice against the disease was announced yesterday evening by the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

The announcement adds evidence for a hope generally expressed by medical men that in the serum of human beings or of animals having sleeping sickness, there will be found ultimately one of the immunizing agents useful for protection against encephalitis.

The institute studies have not advanced to the point of testing this serum on human beings.

The experiments indicated, however, the cause of the disease is a virus, which cannot be seen under a microscope nor caught in the finest filter.

They also bear out a common medical belief that sleeping sickness attacks through the nose and mouth.

Britain's Exports Are Compared

Canadian Press
London, Nov. 17.—The Duchess of Atholl inquired in the House of Commons yesterday about Britain's exports to Russia and Canada, a question of interest in view of the present negotiations for a new Anglo-Russian trade pact.

Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, replied that for the six months ended with last September merchandise exported from the United Kingdom to Canada totaled £9,600,000, while the corresponding figure for the Soviet Union was £2,115,000.

FARM STRIKE PLAN AGITATES ARGENTINA

Buenos Aires, Nov. 17.—Farmers were in a state of unrest to-day, influenced by a campaign urging them to abandon their crops and not plant, in an effort to improve prices.

To combat this move, Governor Martinez de Hoz issued an agricultural manifesto against joining the movement and outlined again the methods being taken to aid ranchers and farmers.

The governor argued crop abandonment would merely aggravate conditions.

NEW GERMAN CRIMINAL CODE

Some of Most Drastic Measures in Modern Court History Provided

Associated Press
Berlin, Nov. 17.—The new Nazi criminal code, continuing some of the most drastic penal measures of modern court history, was made public in detail yesterday evening.

Indefinite sentences up to life imprisonment, as in many state laws in the United States, face habitual criminals under the new code. Even beggars and tramps can be committed to detention homes for indefinite periods at hard labor.

German judges are given boundless discretion in the cases of criminals "of whom lapses can be assumed." These offenders will not be released after serving out their sentences, but will be obliged to perform forced labor "so long as they constitute a public menace."

The code defines habitual criminals as second offenders.

Sterilization for dangerous sex criminals is provided for in the law.

NEW PROPAGANDA GERMAN REPORTS

Associated Press
Paris, Nov. 17.—The newspaper Petit Parisien published yesterday evening a second installment of purported instructions from Berlin to German propaganda agents abroad revealing what it said was a plan for influencing United States newspapers.

The newspaper said the services of special correspondents "under entirely neutral colors" for American publications were among recommendations prescribed in messages sent to Germans abroad by Dr. Joseph Goebbels, German Minister of Propaganda and Public Enlightenment.

(The German government issued an official denial at Berlin concerning previous purported instructions published in Paris.)

Le Petit Parisien said yesterday evening the services of correspondents were to be furnished "not only gratuitously but with financial profit camouflaged in some way." Establishment of friendly relations with the management of newspapers, said the Paris journal, was recommended.

ENGLISH WRITER VISITING STATES

Associated Press
San Francisco, Nov. 17.—In England, says S. Petre Brodie Maie, prolific young English novelist, if anyone should spot a grown-up man reading comic strips on a street car, he'd exclaim:

"Hello, what's this? The man must be daffy!"

But Maie likes the American sense of humor, and admitted he "roared" over a Mae West movie wisecrack, "Go peel a grape!"

"Droll, no end," said he.

He is here on a lecture tour.

The first was for discharging a gun from an automobile, for which Emery was fined $50 and costs, and the second for carrying firearms without a license, on which count he was fined $10 and costs.

Emery shot and accidentally killed Stanley Bayne, Beaver Creek farmer, while shooting at a deer in Bayne's field on June 29. WHAT ABOUT ARTICLE 21?

The news from London that Timber Distributors Limited have entered into negotiations with the Soviet trading organization for the purchase next year of 400,000 standards—a little less than 800,000,000 feet—of Russian timber seems to indicate that the fight which Premier Bennett has put up for the observance of Article 21 of the Canada-United Kingdom treaty so far has not borne fruit. This new development no doubt will induce him to renew his efforts, in which he will have the support of the Canadian people.

The Article of the Ottawa agreement to which we refer reads as follows: "This agreement is made on the express condition that, if either government is satisfied that any preference hereby granted in respect of any particular class of commodities are likely to be frustrated in whole or in part by reason of the creation or maintenance directly or indirectly of prices for such class of commodities through State action on the part of any foreign country, that government hereby declares that it will exercise the powers which it now has or will hereafter take to prohibit the entry from such foreign country directly or indirectly of such commodities into its country for such time as may be necessary to make effective and to maintain the preferences hereby granted by it."

The natural difficulties which militate against Canada's competition in the British timber market with northern European countries are well known. Our exporters have to ask a higher price because of the cost involved in transporting the product such a long distance. There seems to be no way of getting round the physical obstacle. Another vexatious point is the difference of opinion between this country and Great Britain as to whether Russia is or is not competing unfairly with Canada in the British timber market. Mr. Bennett contends, and there seems a good deal to support his argument, that "State action" in Russia enables that country to produce lumber and unload it in Britain at a price with which Canada can not compete. This is the reason he is pressing for the application of Article 21.

After the various representations which have been made to the British government, both by Premier Bennett and Hon. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner in London, it ought to be possible for the authorities in Britain to determine whether the lumber which Russia sells in the British market in such vast quantities—approximately eight times as much as British Columbia sells there—is produced under conditions that violate the spirit and letter of Article 21, or not. If, on the other hand, the British government does not propose to interfere with the negotiations now being conducted by Timber Importers Limited, and does not propose to test the matter in the light of Article 21, then it might just as well say so and leave Canada free to enter into negotiations for the sale of lumber elsewhere.

LIBERALISM ASSERTS ITSELF

As the British Parliament prorogued to-day—it will commence a new session next Tuesday—Sir Herbert Samuel announced that his contingent of thirty Liberals will cross the floor and sit with the official Liberal opposition. From the numerical standpoint this action on the part of the Liberal leader will not materially affect the National Government's large majority. It will mean, however, a combined opposition of a little more than eighty members. At the election in 1931, thirteen Liberal candidates were elected as supporters of the National party, as were thirty-five Liberals. Presumably these will continue to give their allegiance to the administration. The government's majority, therefore, will still be approximately 500 in a House of 615 members.

It will be recalled that when the National Government was formed, the Liberal party split, Sir John Simon leading a group into the government, while Sir Herbert Samuel's group remained benevolently neutral. Sir Herbert, however, has made it clear on several occasions recently that he and his followers are completely dissatisfied with the government's disarmament and domestic policies. The argument which has been advanced in support of the course which Sir Herbert now has taken is that nothing could be more demoralizing to the party inside and outside the House than to sit on passively waiting for the government to commit some peculiarly gross and flagrant outrage which even the most timorous would refuse to stomach.

For a considerable period now, The Manchester Guardian has been arguing in favor of abandonment of the neutral stand by the Liberals under Sir Herbert Samuel. It pointed out recently that hardly a speech passes without some reference to the saving power of Liberalism in a distracted world. "Is it any weakening of national purpose," The Guardian asks, "for Liberals to put the enunciation of their beliefs in the first place and so seize every opportunity of pressing them, whatever the consequences?" This daily thinks that the Liberalism restated to meet the critical needs of the hour would lead to a root and branch criticism of the government's fiscal and commercial policy and of its policy towards unemployment, and towards education, housing, and the social services. We read further:

There are sometimes dismissed as mere domestic controversies, of small account by the side of the international issues for which, it is pleaded, national unity is essential if the country is to exert its full weight in the world. Even if Liberals could say with conviction that their country's conduct as a whole in the last two years has been such as to merit unqualified approval, it is a new doctrine, that critical opinion should stultify itself for fear of embarrassing the government.

The trouble with British foreign policy in the last two years has been not too much domestic criticism but too little. When emergency does come, real national unity will not be lacking. But no government has the right to demand it as of right. The immediate need is for a clear statement of position on free trade and nationalism, economic and political. This must cover not merely tariffs and trade agreements, both with the empire and with foreign countries, and the attempted revival of British agriculture by subsidies, restrictions, and regimentation, but such questions of local importance as the method of dealing with Japanese competition and trade relations with India. There is no call to be apologetic.

As already mentioned, the abandonment of neutrality by the Samuel Liberals will not shake the government's ponderous majority. At the same time, to-day's move has followed closely on three by-elections in which the government suffered a serious reverse in one and held the other two seats with a very greatly reduced majority. The chief issues dominating these three contests included the country's foreign policy, disarmament, housing, and taxed food. The results would seem to indicate that the pendulum has begun to swing away from the government. But unless something altogether unexpected should happen, something which would require an appeal to the people, there is no reason to suppose that the present ministry will not live out its full term of office.

NO WONDER

As if to emphasize the present state of the world, there comes the announcement from Oslo that the Norwegian Parliament has decided there will be no award of the Nobel Peace Prize this year.

There are quite a number of distinguished men, of course, who even in this somewhat troublous year have continued to pitch their plea for peace in a major key. But they have been voices crying in the wilderness.

It is not an exaggeration to say that there have been more war-like gestures, more unsettling "incidents," this year than in any year since the crash of guns ceased fifteen years ago. The unofficial war between China and Japan, although over in the physical sense, has left a very disturbing condition in its wake. South America has distinguished itself in several parts by running little wars. Germany is now regarded, as the bad boy of Europe and as guilty of rocking the international boat. The elections of last Sunday would appear to suggest that the people of that country have not minded the rocking process in the least. Official Germany, of course, continues to protest that its most earnest desire is peace. But the tongue may be in the cheek. Then there is the Disarmament Conference fiasco.

On top of all this evidence that all is not as well in the world as it should be, there have been recent announcements of further armament programmes, or upward changes in those already arranged.

The year 1933, therefore, could hardly be regarded as the most suitable year in which to make a Peace Prize award.

SOMETHING AT LAST?

According to The Toronto Globe's correspondent at Ottawa, a definite programme calculated to accelerate business betterment in Canada will shortly be announced by Premier Bennett. We are told that the Prime Minister has been encouraged by the recent distinct trend in trade and federal revenues, and is now evolving policies designed to produce a forward movement. Another dispatch from Ottawa announces that Mr. Bennett will speak over the radio next Monday night and will discuss national problems.

Western newspapers hailed the Prime Minister's announcement a month or so ago that he would visit the prairies with suggestions that that would be his great opportunity to take a message of hope to those districts most needing encouragement. Such newspapers friendly to the government as The Calgary Herald and The Winnipeg Tribune looked forward to an outstanding pronouncement and frankly told Premier Bennett in advance that it was his duty to give the people some sort of leadership.

The Prime Minister's western tour produced nothing save a defence of his government's policies in the last three years—and a verbal battle with his political opponents. We know Mr. Bennett is a very busy man; but he takes altogether too much of the task of government on his own shoulders. However, let us hope that even at this late stage the suggestion of The Globe's Ottawa correspondent has a solid foundation. But making speeches will solve nothing. Action and leadership are wanted and wanted immediately.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

OFF ON THE WRONG FOOT
The Toronto Star

The pastor of a wealthy Toronto congregation suggests that the recent resolution of the Toronto conference of the United Church will have the effect of "postponing still further the overdue effort of that church to succor its poorer ministers—an effort which must look for its support largely to those who have been unjustly denounced." This, of course, is the old argument which has been presented whenever there has been a proposal to tax or control wealth. On such occasions it has always been said that if wealth were taxed, charities and churches would suffer. The taxation has been imposed and charities and churches have carried on as before. But what will wealthy men think of the reflection upon their motives which the Toronto pastor's intimation implies?

THE BANKING DISCLOSURES
The New York World-Telegram

Our financial system—as revealed by the crash and subsequent exposure—is too vast, complicated and rotten to permit complete reform from within. It is the government, and not private interests, that the public hereafter will hold responsible for keeping the money temples clean. In banking of the future—as in other business—there will be both good men and bad. Either the government will see to it that those who handle other people's money are not crooks or gamblers, or the government as a last resort will become the people's banker.

A THOUGHT

These things I have spoken unto you, that in me you might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation; but he of good cheer: I have overcome the world.—St. John vi 33.

Naught is bad, all is spent, where our desire is got without content.—Shakespeare.

Loose Ends

Mr. Wynn discovers Victoria and a typical Victorian—but the whole problem baffles me—We don't suffer like the large places—the finances are in chaos—and they are planning it all out next door.

By H.B.W.

FROM VICTORIA

THE OTHER night, when Ed Wynn was assaulting the defenceless ears of the radio public, he asked some fellow where he came from. The fellow replied, "From Victoria, B.C." "Well," said Mr. Wynn, "you look it."

Now, somehow I suspect that this was a dirty crack for our town. Yet I can't imagine why we should have been selected for this continent-wide distinction, since Victoria, B.C., must mean very little to Mr. Wynn's public. Most likely the majority of his listeners have heard of us only as the parents of that remarkable infant, Cadborosaurus. Nevertheless, Mr. Wynn's weird jest sets one thinking gravely on serious problems.

I mean to say, how does a Victorian look? By what special characteristics would a stranger distinguish a Victorian from the common run of humanity? The distinction with, of course, no one, for example, would mistake a Victorian for a Vancouverite, but wherein lies this splendid difference of which every Victorian in his heart is proud?

WHAT IS IT?

WOULD YOU say it was his subtle distinction of dress? Would you say that typical Victorian might be expected to wear plus fours, a rough-tweed coat and a blue sweater instead of a vest? Yes, that is a good clue, my dear Watson, quite elementary. But there are Victorians who don't dress like that, you know. There are several old fellows living on the outskirts of the city who don't even own a pair of plus fours.

Would you say, then, that it was the lofty Victorian accent with the extra broad A's and the little bit of England in the vocal chords? Or is it that prosperous, money-in-the-bank, remittance-from-home, pound-above-par look which one associates with Victoria? Or perhaps Mr. Wynn recognizes Victorians by their evident appearance of superior intelligence, the unworriedness of men whose minds are on higher things?

And what, when you come to grapple with this baffling problem, is a typical Victorian? Have you ever looked in a mirror and tried to puzzle that out? Have you ever gazed on that distinguished visage and tried to determine in what respects it was different from that of a humble Vancouverite or a poor frozen Winnipegger?

Who, indeed, may be considered a typical and representative Victorian? Would you consider Premier Pattullo our typical Victorian citizen? Or ex-Premier Talmie, the exact opposite of his successor in very many respects? Would you admit that our chief magistrate, Mayor Leeming, had the indefinable look which is apparent even to a crude fellow like Mr. Wynn as Victorianism? What about Dr. Clem Davies and Mr. Joseph North, both of whom have captured the imagination of many Victorians at various times? I must confess it is difficult.

I cannot think, in the entire population of the city, of a single typical Victorian. I am beginning to have a gnawing and an awful fear about it. I am beginning to wonder whether there really is a typical Victorian alive. I am beginning to wonder in secret whether we may not be somewhat like other people. I am beginning to suspect that we are only human and mortal after all. But Mr. Wynn will still be able to distinguish a Victorian from other men. He will know the Victorian by his haunted expression. Your true Victorian will be the man among the crowd who looks as if he had just seen a seersucker.

NOT HERE

IN NEW YORK, during the recent majority election, physicians reported an epidemic of nervous indigestion. Electors were so worked up over the outcome of the contest, filled about it so excitedly, lost so much sleep that they contracted nervous indigestion in acute form and in thousands of cases. The situation became so serious, indeed, that New York's consumption of food dropped off alarmingly, and if the campaign had lasted another month most likely the farms of New York State, depending on the city for their market, would have been ruined. Happily the trial is over.

But look at us in Victoria, Mr. Wynn. We have been through one election campaign and are now in the middle of a second and, besides, we have had the added anxiety of our seersucker. But we are philosophers, Mr. Wynn. Not one case of nervous indigestion was reported during the entire campaign. Ordinary places like New York, faced by such a triple crisis, would have been prostrate, the streets empty, but here not even the candidates have missed a single meal. Mr. Wynn will have another clue in future—if a man looks as if he suffered from nervous indigestion at election times he doesn't come from Victoria.

THE FEW

THE ENEMIES of President Roosevelt's Controlled Economy are beginning to come out into the open now. His N.R.A. scheme, his monetary policies and most of the New Deal are under attack in newspapers and on the public platform. A leading financier told me the other day the whole thing was in chaos, that no one knew what was going to happen and he feared the worst. Even The New York Times, staunch supporter of the President, says he has undermined financial confidence and made things very difficult for business.

Of course things are in chaos. Of course financiers are alarmed. If they weren't, you could be sure the President was doing nothing at all. If he did anything to restore prosperity to the ordinary American it would be attacked by the financiers, inevitably. For the high finance and the men on top have got to suffer, have got to lose a lot of money in the process, if anything worthwhile is to be accomplished.

Roosevelt never denied that. As his Secretary of the Interior Ickes said last week: "We are not born into this world to work like galley slaves for long hours at toilsome tasks in order to accumulate in the hands of two per cent of the population eighty per cent of the wealth of the country." It is that two per cent which will equal because, if this thing succeeds, they won't control eighty per cent of the wealth any longer. And they have the means of squealing the loudest, making the most noise and the most trouble. Of course, they are in chaos and have lost their nerve. Of course the whole Roosevelt scheme is mad in terms of high finance. But probably the President is thinking in terms of human stomachs. Probably he is concerned with the ninety-eight per cent rather than the two.

HUSBAND

YOU KNOW," said the little girl from next door, "I been thinking. I been thinking very hard. I'm trying to plan it out. About getting married. I mean, I don't think I want to get married at all, except for the children. Children, they like to have a daddy, don't they? Yes, I like a daddy, too, so maybe I'll have to get married after all. But I don't want to go away from here. I want to stay right in this house. But I guess I could bring my husband home, eh? I guess my daddy would like that fine.

"Besides, there's a spare room in the house. My husband and my little brother—he'll be grown up then—they can have the spare room and I'll keep my own room for me and the children. That will be all right, won't it? Um, um. That'll be pretty swell for my husband to get a room with my brother, all for nothing, eh? Not many husbands get a room with my brother for nothing. I want to plan it all out, you see. I guess I'll get about twenty babies or so, not all at once, 'cause they keep you up at night when they're young and cutting teeth. So I'll need a big room for the babies and me. Maybe my brother and my husband will have to use the little room at the back of the house, where we keep the trunks and Christmas decorations. Oh, well, husbands don't take up much room."

PATIENT STONES

How few of us look twice at any stone! We watch the flowers, the winding stream, the sky.

And every good pine standing alone is like a signal for the roving eye.

A swift bird, flashing red through the trees.

A chattering squirrel, climbing to her nest, with eager joy we feast our gaze on these and on the sunset banners in the west.

But for the patient stones by which we climb.

We have no thought except that they are strong.

And so they are, more strong than life or time.

They endure through silent ages long.

While we, with birds and beasts and singing streams.

Pass by and are no more than vanished dreams.

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES
November 17, 1908
(From The Times Files)

The fourth session of the eleventh Anglican Synod of the Diocese of British Columbia was held this morning in the schoolroom of Christ Church Cathedral, when about fifty members were present. The election of officers resulted in the re-election of the clerical secretary, Rev. J. H. S. Sweet and lay secretary Frank Burrill. P. Wollaston Jr., was elected treasurer, and A. W. Bridgman and F. E. Worthington auditors.

Tacoma, November 17.—Duncan C. Ross, world famous athlete of a decade ago and still powerful and skillful enough to dispose of the majority of younger men of to-day, arrived in Tacoma on Sunday for a week's visit. By virtue of his victory over the best swordsman of the day in the international tournament held in Madison Square Garden in 1904, Captain Ross holds the world's mounted swordsmanship.

A proposition is before the city for the leasing of the three acres of city property just east of the Empress Hotel and extending to Douglas Street.

The Umbra, a sailing schooner the property of Captain Peppert, arrived home this afternoon after a long and tedious trip. For five days' past she has been almost home, yet unable to negotiate the last few knots. Twice she came as near as Race Rocks, and each time she drifted back with the tide, not having enough wind to blow her on, while all the time it was blowing a gale outside.

The regular meeting of the Oak Bay council was held last evening in the Oak Bay schoolhouse, there being present: Acting Reeve Henderson, and Councillors Newton, Noble, Fernie and McGregor.

SPEECH-MAKING

To the Editor:—Referring to political speech-making, we should like to call attention to the idea that the truly well bred are always sincere, quiet, gracious, good natured speakers. A poet, describing part of a vision, said, "The heavenly steersman, standing at the prow, with visibly blessed written in his looks."

Statesmen are steersmen for ships of state, and would do best to aspire first to raising the standard of their own being—from inner thoughts to outer words and doings—so that "visibly blessed" (sincerity, refinement, sympathy) be written in their looks, and sound through the tones of their voices. They would look and speak so because they had nothing less to offer, and would refuse consistently to offer.

Man-eating Shark Found on Coast

Fourteen-foot specimen found
Dead on Beach in Alberni Canal.

Special to The Times
Port Alberni, Nov. 17.—A fourteen-foot shark, said to be of the man-eating variety, was discovered dead on the shore of Shoemaker Bay by Cecil Dixon and Harvey Walter Thursday afternoon. Shoemaker Bay is across the canal from Port Alberni, and is a popular rendezvous for duck hunters. The big fish was in good condition and apparently not long dead. Its tail fluke is about two and one-half feet long and the shorter lobe is about six inches in length, and in its mouth are the sharp and serrated teeth of the man-eater. Mud sharks are common enough in waters this far north, but it is an unusual occurrence for the man-eating species to wander so far away from the warm tropic waters.

Bars Protested By Palestine Jews

Associated Press
Jerusalem, Nov. 17.—Jews are deeply indignant at regulations recently instituted by the Palestine government to prevent entry of unauthorized Hebrew immigrants, it has become known. Striking at the new regulations, the Jewish agency executive not only demanded withdrawal of some, but asked revision of the rest.

London, Nov. 17.—The London Daily

Herald yesterday cited Jewish information of alleged "wholesale arrests and imprisonment" of Jews in Palestine while, its information said, a steady, unrestricted influx of Bedouin Arabs from Syria and trans-Jordan was being permitted.

GRAND FACTOR VISITS POST

Special to The Times
Ladysmith, Nov. 17.—A special meeting of Dunsmuir Post No. 1, Native Daughters of British Columbia, was held Monday evening to receive the official visit of their grand post of officers, Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, grand factor, and Miss Mae McCorkill, grand secretary, both of Victoria. Members of Douglas Post No. 7, Native Sons, were guests of the Native Daughters for the occasion.

In her address the grand factor spoke of the hospitality of this city during the convention in April and brought news of the work of other posts. After complimenting the local post upon its progress and offering helpful criticism to the officers and members she addressed the gathering on "The Spirit of Co-operation." At her conclusion she presented to the post a photograph of herself.

The chief factor expressed the appreciation of the post and in turn presented the grand factor with a framed picture of the local dogwood trees in natural coloring.

The grand secretary also addressed the assembly and was presented with a small souvenir.

Charles W. Aiken, chief factor of the local post of Native Sons, spoke briefly. Refreshments were served.

A comical sketch by the dramatic talents among the Native Daughters was staged and caused considerable merriment.

It was entitled "Gold Diggers For What You Can Get" and the cast was: Miss Arthur Morrison, Miss Janie Griffin, Miss Florence Jones, Miss Anna Truss, Miss Cassie Morrison, Miss Aileen Peters and Miss Marjorie Beattie.

WANTS FACTS ON SOLUTIONS

Rev. Robert Connell Doubts
Ability of Liberal Government

The new government has offered no practical solutions to problems of the day, Rev. Robert Connell, C.C.F. candidate for Victoria, said during the course of a meeting at the James Douglas School yesterday evening.

H. A. Bowden, president, T. Guy Sheppard and W. B. Caird, other C.C.F. candidates in Victoria, also spoke.

Mr. Connell declared the Liberals were not facing facts, which had to be faced at this time, but were living in a state of "cheerful delusion."

Guy Sheppard charged Liberals were not carrying out their promises, claiming Premier Pattullo had broken faith with Liberals of Chilliwack by not naming E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Sheppard also stated that although Premier Pattullo was genuine in his ideas, he could not keep his promises as "all power was in the hands of the machine backing the Liberal Party."

W. B. Caird claimed there was need for a strong opposition in the Legislature to level that criticism which he contended would be necessary to force the government to live up to its promises.

Special to The Times
Ladysmith, Nov. 17.—A special meeting of Dunsmuir Post No. 1, Native Daughters of British Columbia, was held Monday evening to receive the official visit of their grand post of officers, Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, grand factor, and Miss Mae McCorkill, grand secretary, both of Victoria. Members of Douglas Post No. 7, Native Sons, were guests of the Native Daughters for the occasion.

In her address the grand factor spoke of the hospitality of this city during the convention in April and brought news of the work of other posts. After complimenting the local post upon its progress and offering helpful criticism to the officers and members she addressed the gathering on "The Spirit of Co-operation." At her conclusion she presented to the post a photograph of herself.

The chief factor expressed the appreciation of the post and in turn presented the grand factor with a framed picture of the local dogwood trees in natural coloring.

The grand secretary also addressed the assembly and was presented with a small souvenir.

Charles W. Aiken, chief factor of the local post of Native Sons, spoke briefly. Refreshments were served.

A comical sketch by the dramatic talents among the Native Daughters was staged and caused considerable merriment.

It was entitled "Gold Diggers For What You Can Get" and the cast was: Miss Arthur Morrison, Miss Janie Griffin, Miss Florence Jones, Miss Anna Truss, Miss Cassie Morrison, Miss Aileen Peters and Miss Marjorie Beattie.

WANTS FACTS ON SOLUTIONS

Rev. Robert Connell Doubts
Ability of Liberal Government

The new government has offered no practical solutions to problems of the day, Rev. Robert Connell, C.C.F. candidate for Victoria, said during the course of a meeting at the James Douglas School yesterday evening.

H. A. Bowden, president, T. Guy Sheppard and W. B. Caird, other C.C.F. candidates in Victoria, also spoke.

Mr. Connell declared the Liberals were not facing facts, which had to be faced at this time, but were living in a state of "cheerful delusion."

Guy Sheppard charged Liberals were not carrying out their promises, claiming Premier Pattullo had broken faith with Liberals of Chilliwack by not naming E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Sheppard also stated that although Premier Pattullo was genuine in his ideas, he could not keep his promises as "all power was in the hands of the machine backing the Liberal Party."

W. B. Caird claimed there was need for a strong opposition in the Legislature to level that criticism which he contended would be necessary to force the government to live up to its promises.

Port Alberni, Nov. 17.—A fourteen-foot shark, said to be of the man-eating variety, was discovered dead on the shore of Shoemaker Bay by Cecil Dixon and Harvey Walter Thursday afternoon. Shoemaker Bay is across the canal from Port Alberni, and is a popular rendezvous for duck hunters. The big fish was in good condition and apparently not long dead. Its tail fluke is about two and one-half feet long and the shorter lobe is about six inches in length, and in its mouth are the sharp and serrated teeth of the man-eater. Mud sharks are common enough in waters this far north, but it is an unusual occurrence for the man-eating species to wander so far away from the warm tropic waters.

A thunderous roar that awakened thousands, a sheet of flame that lit up the sky for miles, and a billowing mass of smoke that rolled over half of Oklahoma City brought scores of oil workers to the battle which finally resulted in conquering the fire in No. 1 Reno gusher, only a mile from the city hall in Oklahoma's capital. SERGEANT-MAJOR SEEKS BACK PAY

He Claims $705 For Car Hire in A. G. Boulton's Time at University School

Sergeant-Major Sam Watson's suit for $705 against the University School got before Judge Lampman to-day, when Robert D. Harvey, the sergeant-major's counsel, applied for an order to look into the school's books in connection with examination of witnesses for discovery.

Mr. Harvey told the court the claim was based on the fact a few years ago when the school was under A. G. Boulton, the sergeant-major, as physical instructor, had been transporting pupils in his motor car and had not been paid, as promised, by Mr. Boulton, for so doing, although at the same time Mr. Boulton had had the parents of these boys in Vancouver and other parts of the province charged up with the cost of this transportation.

"Sergeant-Major Watson drove the boys to the rifle range at Heale in his car, but was never paid for these trips as he promised but the boys' parents were charged up for them by Mr. Boulton," Mr. Harvey went on.

He introduced accounts from local bus companies charging $90 to $135 for the transportation of the boys over a period.

"The parents of the boys who went with the sergeant-major were charged at this rate, but when they paid the money to the school it was not paid over to the sergeant-major as promised," Mr. Harvey went on.

He added that he had also carted lawn mowers around when Mr. Boulton was there, but had never been paid for this work.

Alexis Martin, counsel for the school, opposed the claim, declaring that an order back to Mr. Boulton's time and was now outlawed by the statute of limitations. He said it had nothing to do with those in charge of the school at present as Mr. Boulton had left and it was not fair that they should be tied up to it. He also argued that the transporting the sergeant-major did was all part of his employment and there was no agreement for him to collect for this work.

"The sergeant-major was very popular with the boys and it was because they did not like to see him treated in this way that he found out what was going on in the way of the parents being charged up," Mr. Harvey replied.

The judge said he would reserve his judgment.

The trial of the suit of Henry Harcourt Curtis against Noel Robinson, over a chattel mortgage signed by Lenora Pearl Minnis, came to an end at 2 o'clock this afternoon when Judge Lampman gave judgment for the full amount claimed in favor of Mr. Curtis and against Mr. Robinson.

WONDERFUL MENU AT SOVIET PARTY

Washington, Nov. 17.—Just before Envoy Maxim Litvinoff arrived, Soviet Representative Boris E. Skirsky gave his last large annual dinner party for friends. The occasion was the sixteenth anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution. Candelsticks, nut baskets, autumn leaves, plates and other trimmings were in red.

Appetizers of caviar on blintzes and sturgeon, borscht, lobster patties, chicken with pea-stuffed artichokes, pate de foie gras and baked ice cream gave everyone plenty to eat. Russian newscasts were shown. Skirsky does not wear evening clothes at his own parties. He left Russia before Moscow entered international diplomacy in a big way.

CRITICISM GROWS IN BRITISH HOUSE

Samuel Liberals Will Cross Floor of Commons and Sit With Opposition

Canadian Press

London, Nov. 17.—In an address to the nation yesterday evening Sir Herbert Samuel told why his group of thirty or so Liberals would cross the floor of the House of Commons and sit with the opposition.

On almost all matters, except Indian affairs, Sir Herbert said his group found itself compelled to adopt an attitude of criticism toward the National Government. He instanced policies of the government regarding unemployment, housing and agriculture. He said his Liberals were profoundly dissatisfied with the course of events in disarmament efforts, the "most vital issue of the day," in which they believed the cabinet had displayed lack of zeal and its negotiators lack of skill. Clearly, he said, the Liberal followers of Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, were destined to be swallowed up by the powerful Conservative organization, which forms the backbone of the government.

His own party, he declared, would be completely independent and its policy would include maintenance of peace, pursuance of the work of the League of Nations, seeking to get in close collaboration with the United States, a gradual reduction of trade restrictions and a vigorous policy of national development.

The Samuel group will cross the floor when Parliament prorogues to-day, opens the new session next Tuesday.

Should Be Placed Upon Actual Values, Says Lindley Crease, K.C.

Addresses Real Estate Board; Advocates Change in Courts of Revision

Advocating a change in the personnel of courts of revision and compulsory taxation of improvements, the following recommendations, set out in an address by Lindley Crease, K.C., to the Real Estate Board of Victoria at luncheon in Spencer's dining-room to-day, will receive careful consideration by directors of the board, with a view to having them presented in brief form to municipal and provincial authorities:

"A fixed policy for a definite term in regard to the treatment of reverted lands, and investigation of the possibility of using leaseholds on favorable terms to those who will build.

"Compulsory taxation of improvements to spread the burden on a more equitable basis to result in the ultimate protection of property values and the advancement of business in the city.

"Revision of the constitution of the courts of revision with the objective of having assessments more closely approximate actual values and a more equitable tax rate in order that the city's obligations shall be based upon the earning capacity rather than the supposed speculative value of its assessable property."

Throughout his address Mr. Crease dealt with what he felt were fallacies in the present system of assessment but made it clear he was casting no reflection upon municipal officials or civic dignitaries but was advocating a gradual change of method to bring about a more equitable system of taxation and assessment.

It was often felt, Mr. Crease stated, that there was something fundamentally lacking with the present system of municipal assessments. In the statutes there were set forth principles upon which assessments of real estate should proceed, he said.

He pointed out that the simple standard set out by statute had been disregarded and whereas the Municipal Act provided that for the purpose of taxation land should be assessed at its actual value, the assessments placed upon land were purely fictitious in many cases and far greater than the actual value. These assessments had been boosted to improve municipal credit, raise money, and the taxpayer needed the stimulation of real estate speculation.

Matters had proceeded so far that a change to a sounder method must be gradual, he said.

Mr. Crease then explained his views on taxation of improvements and the altering of the personnel of the courts of revision, which he felt should be entirely independent of the council. Under present conditions these courts were responsible to two masters, he stated, one being the corporation which needed the money, and the taxpayer who did not want to pay any more than he had to.

He felt taxation of improvements should be compulsory throughout the province to 50 per cent, adding that this would bring about a more equitable distribution of the financial burden and would serve to improve the financial status of the municipality or city.

Mr. Crease's address was warmly received by the members, and on motion it was recommended to the executive for further consideration.

STANDARD DISREGARDED

He pointed out that the simple standard set out by statute had been disregarded and whereas the Municipal Act provided that for the purpose of taxation land should be assessed at its actual value, the assessments placed upon land were purely fictitious in many cases and far greater than the actual value. These assessments had been boosted to improve municipal credit, raise money, and the taxpayer needed the stimulation of real estate speculation.

Real Estate Board Also Protests Lavish Works' Expenditure By Government

The Real Estate Board to-day unanimously endorsed a resolution presented by James Forman advocating the restoration of government grants for social services to their former levels and registering a protest against lavish public works expenditures by the government at the expense of the municipalities.

Notice of the resolution was submitted to a meeting two weeks ago and was, after slight amendment, finally passed without dissent to-day.

In a preamble to the resolution attention is drawn to the fact that land taxation has now reached a point where confiscation and reversions are general and increasing, owing to the large works of unemployment relief and the removing of certain government grants from the municipalities.

Copies of the resolution are to be sent to the Premier, Minister of Finance, Mayor and City Council, Inspector of Municipalities, Chamber of Commerce, Real Estate Board of Vancouver, and the chairman of the Victoria Ratepayers' Association.

BRITISH NAVAL PLANS CRITICIZED

Associated Press

London, Nov. 17.—The National Peace Council, in a statement yesterday evening declared Great Britain's revised naval programme indicated a policy of "competition with the United States and Japan, which would endanger international relationships."

The council deprecated the action, announced Tuesday in the House of Commons, "at the most critical stage in the negotiations of the Disarmament Conference."

The First Lord of the Admiralty, Sir Bolton Meredith Eyre Monnell, announced the 1933 programme would include two new type 9,000-ton cruisers with increased armaments and one cruiser of 5,300 tons.

For Second Year Running Award For Worthy Efforts By Statesmen Not Made

Oslo, Norway, Nov. 17.—The Nobel Peace Prize is going begging this year because the Storting (Parliament) committee empowered to make the award decided this week no statesman in the world had achieved anything worthy of the honor.

Many candidates were proposed, but the committee found 1933 was lacking a deserving enterprise in the cause of peace.

Its actual negotiations and voting were secret, under the laws and by-laws of the foundation established by Alfred Bernhard Nobel.

Since no peace prize was awarded in 1932, two prizes were at the disposal of the Storting's committee of five. One of these will be added to a special fund and the other will remain for disposal with next year's award.

Robert J. McMaster, a student at the University of British Columbia, has been appointed Premier of the Parliament.

At a fine meeting of the Quad Club yesterday evening the members of the various committees, whose chairmen were named as follows: Programme committee, Chris McRae, chairman; Max Chalk and Gordie Gray; social committee, Layton McLeod, chairman; Harold Rose and Alex Gray, and sports committee, Harold Kennedy, chairman. Municipalities Head Calls on Ministers

As president of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, Reeve William Crouch of Saanich called on Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, and Hon. C. S. Pearson, Minister of Mines and Minister of Labor yesterday. Relief and payments on account of relief to municipalities come under Mr. Pearson's direction. He was assured by Reeve Crouch that the cities of British Columbia through the Union of B.C. Municipalities would do everything possible to co-operate with him. The same assurance of co-operation was also extended to Mr. Wells Gray, who for years has been interested in the union, from which he will resign as secretary, because of his new duties and who, it is reported, may take charge of a department of municipalities to be created later.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

A parent may prescribe all the right kinds of behavior, she may punish the child for his actions, and his manners, but he is inevitably only what she makes him. The imprint of the parent is marked indelibly upon the child.

Children copy not only the voice intonations of the parent but imitate her mannerisms. Perhaps she is careful to moderate her voice when in adult company, but at home lets out all the querulous, mean, injured, sharp tones which more than words denote her inner emotions. The child hears these tones and he, too, uses them, regardless of his mother's frenzied desire for him to act nicely and talk nicely.

Too many parents are not at all concerned with what their children think of them but only what their friends and contemporaries think. But the child does think and he loses respect for the parent who lacks emotional control, whose discipline is a matter of sharp commands and sharper punishment, who displays an entire lack of consideration for the child as a human being. The parent gets no results from her methods, no matter how good may be her objectives.

EXPLAIN MISBEHAVIOR

Often these subtle undertones make it impossible to tell parents why they are not getting good results apparently from their child-training methods. Everything they do may be according to "the books," but that subtle something between parent and child has an incalculable result. The child may know quite well that he is the object of a method. He may note what the parent does, how she acts, and what she says, and see the difference between that and what is expected of him.

Parents are often not only undisciplined themselves, but they are too stern and strict with their children.

demanding perfection from them in years when no child is perfect. We cannot possibly erase the influence of the parent upon the child. We cannot wipe out the effect of mother's tones which may be more effective than her acts. The things we do to a child must be weighed in the balance of our own behavior. In our own reprehensible conduct outweighs our words? Quite often it is and because of that the effect of the words, logical or reasonable as they may be, is completely nullified.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart

Personal cleanliness is one of the first requisites of immaculate grooming. Consider your whole body and your clothes as well as your face and figure when you plan a winter beauty routine. Woolen socks and steam heated rooms cause quite a lot of excess perspiration and you should bathe in clean water and use a good deodorant under your arms at least twice a week. Woolen clothes need to be dry-cleaned frequently and they should be aired thoroughly several times between cleanings. Hang them in the sun, wring side out, and leave them for a few hours.

Be sure that each dress has shields in it. This is important no matter how prettily you use deodorants. Remember to clean the shields each time you clean the dress and it's not bad idea to clean shields often than that. Dip them in a little household ammonia and hang them in the sun to dry. Fur collars need attention too. You can't keep your neck clean if you wear the same fur collar all winter without cleaning it at least once every two weeks. A rough bath towel and a bit of cleansing fluid will clean any fur collar and won't hurt the fur a bit. Neck scarves, either wool or silk ones, should be washed or dry cleaned often. In other words, be just as fastidious about your outer garments as you are about the lingerie which you wear next to your skin.

IS CAUSTIC ON FILM BEAUTIES

Penryhn Stanlawa Says Not One Perfect Beauty Among Hollywood Stars

New York, Nov. 17.—Despite all the hollywood director because he spoke out on Hollywood's pulchritude. His spoke out again to-day with no job to lose.

There would be if one of them had Lupe Velez's profile, Joan Bennett's face, and a boyish figure. Stanlawa would add a touch of lipstick, rouge and mascara. In 1922 Stanlawa lost his job as a Hollywood director because he spoke out on Hollywood's pulchritude. His spoke out again to-day with no job to lose.

Miss West—"Her head, eyes and mouth were constructed for a simple nose, but nature presented her with a complicated one—interestingly modified, but bringing the eyes too close together."

Greta Garbo—"She has a sleepy, sophisticated look, attained by deep eye sockets, and a peculiar slant of the upper lip. These are not aids to beauty, but schoolgirls find the effect more alluring than beauty."

Ann Harding—"Fine symmetrical features, but so nearly approaching the classic type that repose of features is essential to beauty."

Mary Pickford—"There is no one in the cinema who has her scrupulous modeling and harmony of features. Mary hasn't it," however. Marlene Dietrich—"Take Mary Pickford's head and replace it with one slightly out of drawing, give her heavy eyelids and sunken eyes and you have Dietrich—a sophisticated Mary."

Bonham, widow, as she penned out her will, providing a total of $89.58 be paid to a niece and nephew on either they had passed the age of thirty. The will was filed for probate yesterday. She also stipulated her niece "not give any of the money to her husband, if she ever has one."

SOCIETY WOMEN "ADOPT" BABIES

Mrs. Stanley Baldwin Launches Scheme to Help Slum Mothers

London, Nov. 17.—(By Thomas T. Chapman, Canadian Press Staff Writer).—The ladies of Downing Street, headed by Mrs. Stanley Baldwin, are "adopting" babies of the East End of London for the winter. The babies will not be transferred from the East End to Downing Street, but they will be looked after in the children's house in the Bow district.

The babies so adopted are the children of mothers who have to go out to work—very often because the father has been unemployed. Small though the charge is, if a baby is left at the children's house during the mother's working hours, it is beyond the majority of these parents to pay the fee.

Mrs. Baldwin had the idea of "adopting" a baby, an example which was followed by other ladies in Downing Street, who went down to the East End and selected the infants for whom they were willing to pay for maintenance. Most of the ladies have paid a round sum, which will ensure the baby of their adoption being well looked after for at least twelve months.

The babies are left at the children's house early in the morning, are well cared for throughout the day, and towards evening their mothers or older brothers and sisters call and take them home.

COUPLE WED AT COURTNEY

Courtney, Nov. 17.—A wedding of interest to Merville people took place on Saturday evening at St. George's Church, Courtney, when Rev. Dr. M. W. Lees united in marriage Dorothy May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Taylor of Merville and Carl Sundin, also of Merville. The bride wore an attractive frock of white flat crepe and a wreath of silver leaves in her hair. She carried a bouquet of pale yellow chrysanthemums. The bridegroom wore a blue and white tuxedo and carried a blue and white bouquet. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. M. W. Lees. The wedding was attended by 150 guests. The young couple received many lovely gifts. They will make their home on Victoria Street, Courtney.

FINE PROGRAMME BY HART HOUSE

A most delightful programme has been arranged by the Hart House Quartette for its concert here next Thursday, November 23, in the Empress Hotel.

Among the many good things will be the "Quartette in D Minor," with four movements. This quartette is known as the "Debut" and was composed by the slow movement, for which Schubert employed the melody of his song by that name. Another number will be the "Debut" and was composed by the slow movement, for which Schubert employed the melody of his song by that name. Gorgeous Evening Gowns At Chrysanthemum Tea velvets, heavy beaded, velvets covered with metallic embroideries, tulle, with spangly silver, and drawn through them—luxurious looking materials to gladden feminine eyes—yet, wonder of wonders— inexpensive.

Sunday night frocks, dinner gowns and formal evening dresses followed one another in a bewitching array. A shrimp ruff crepe dinner gown with glass collar effect drew a low breath of approval from the attentive guests. With this Miss Pearson wore a Le March hand-made picture hat of black velvet. Miss Pennock modeled a lovely dinner gown of moss crepe in Oriental gold, showing the new winged shoulder effect. Mrs. Rattenbury appeared in a beautiful black silk lace and chiffon dinner gown. With this was worn a cocktail jacket. Cocktail jackets are becoming increasingly popular—in fact they have almost become a economic necessity, for with the addition of one of these gay metallic cloth innovations, the most formal evening gown can, in the twinkling of an eye, be changed into an informal dinner dress.

Among the Sunday evening frocks Miss Carey—exquisite in magenta red—modeled a dress featuring the new lantern sleeves in contrasting black velvet, and Miss Pearson in Chartreuse green transparent velvet, showing an unusual shaped collar and with a Gainsboro black velvet turban, were outstanding.

A formal evening gown of white out velvet in silhouette style, its only ornament an ivory buckle, was startlingly beautiful in its gorgeous simplicity, and an orchid tulle with apple green trimming was a instant favorite. Miss Carey modeled both these gowns.

In yesterday's style show particular attention was given to a group of evening wraps, all of which featured an early Victorian style—fitted waists and broad shoulders—a trend of the mode.

THEATRE FOR WOMEN ONLY

Refugee From Hitler Regime Has Novel Plan For London Venture

English Girl Is Just to Start Aerial Photography Business

London, Nov. 17.—Frauline Leontine Sagan, the creator of "Madchen in Uniform"—that striking German film of schoolgirl life—has one great ambition. And that is to take over a theatre in the West End and have it directed, staffed and run entirely by women. In it only plays written by women would be produced.

Frauline Sagan, who left Berlin on account of the Hitler regime, is now settled in England. She is an ardent feminist. She maintains that even at the present day the old taboos which operated against women in the theatre are still in force.

She believes that it is often impossible for a woman to get her play produced seriously, by a management. None the less, she is convinced there is a great undiscovered store of playwrighting talent among women. Frauline Sagan would employ a few men in her theatre—but only as clerks.

FLYING PHOTOGRAPHER

A twenty-three-year-old girl who learned to fly in her lunch hours is the first girl in Great Britain to start an aerial photography business. She has already had five years of flying, having paid for her flying lessons by writing a book on aviation.

The girl, whom the Mersey Dock and Harbour Board have employed to take photographs of the docks, is Miss M. M. Muntz. She flies over the ground to take a series of aerial photographs which will show how the currents and sandbanks change at the mouth of the Mersey.

Miss Muntz has obtained her first air certificate in the Air Ambulance Movement, a new entry into the field of aviation. The organization is made up of detachments of qualified pilots, preferably women, who will be already trained for ambulance in the event of warfare.

A PRINCESS REINSTATED

Princess Charlotte, who a few months ago gave up her rights of succession to the throne of Monaco when she obtained a divorce from her husband, Prince Pierre de Polignac, is reported to have been reinstated as sole heir to the throne.

Princess Louise II, the sixty-three-year-old ruler of Monaco, and father of Princess Charlotte, has considered this act for some time. When Princess Charlotte resigned her rights last February because she "wanted to live a life of her own," it was held that her son, Prince Rainier, would be the next ruler of Monaco. But he is still too young and Prince Louis, worried about the succession, has recalled his daughter.

THE PERFECT SECRETARY

The efficient secretary of to-day—one that is really "indispensable"—is one who: Sees that her employer always catches the right train; Keeps his memory on essential matters; Keeps his appointments for him; Puts his letter into correct English; Is tactful; and Keeps away unwanted visitors.

And the girl who can write her employer's letters for him, instead of merely transcribing them, is the most valuable secretary of all. This definition of the "perfect secretary" has been given by a London woman, who has trained hundreds of girls for important secretarial posts.

A GOLDEN WEDDING

Like many society brides this season, Miss Rachel Wrey, who married Capt. Lord Willoughby de Broke on October 4, had a wedding dress of gold brocade.

Miss Wrey first met Lord Willoughby when they were flying with a group of British amateur pilots on a visit to Germany. The bridegroom, who is a distant relative to Lord Willoughby de Broke, was A.D.C. to Lord Lloyd when the latter was Governor of Bombay.

THAT "LIKE THE DICKENS" FEELING IS LIVER

Wake Up Your Liver Bile. Feel Fit. You Needn't use Calomel To Do It.

It's your liver, failing to pour out the vital two pounds of bile, daily, into your bowels, that makes you feel so off-colour. Lack of bile means poor digestion. Food stays too long in your bowels and decays. Your system is poisoned. You go through the misery of gas, bloating, pain, heartburn. You have a dark brown, ashy-yellow tinge to your mouth and bad breath. Your skin's unhealthy and often your head aches. Your whole system seems out of order. How can you reasonably expect to clear up a condition like this by merely taking salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum, or roughing? These only move the bowels, and that's not enough. You must wake up your liver bile. Avoid alcohol (mercury). Take Carter's Little Liver Pills. They're purely vegetable, gentle, sure and safe. They'll make you feel a hundred per cent better in a very short time. Don't waste your money on substitutes. Be definite. HATS PRECARIOUS

Hats are very becoming, but indeed they are precarious affairs. Large or small they perch jauntily on the crown of the head. Picture models fall gracefully over one ear, but the small ones are the new tea hats as they are styled—mere wisps of tulle, chiffon, or tulle, parent lace, with here and there beaded buckle or brilliant bow—just "hang on" in the most exquisite, care-free manner ever decreed by Dame Fashion.

After the gay feast of color and design had come to an end—a feast of quite a different sort appeared. Dainty refreshments prepared particularly for the "chrysanthemum tea" were served, bringing to a close a very charming and entertaining afternoon.

The models—Mrs. Rattenbury and the Misses Pearson, Pennock and Carey, were all chosen from the staff of the Hudson's Bay Store. Miss Grace Allen, I.A.A., played soft music incidental to the mannequin parade.

"Yes," said the old sea captain, "when I was shipwrecked on one of the Pacific Islands I came across a tribe of wild women who had no tongues."

"Good gracious!" exclaimed the innkeeper, "how could they talk?"

"They couldn't," was the reply. "That was what made them wild."

PREVENTION URGENT NEED

Vast Savings Could Be Effected in Health Department, Says Dr. H. E. Young

Tells Rotarians Advisability of Spending Towards Conservation of Humans

The great saving which could be effected both financially and from a health point of view by the spending of money for preventative purposes, was outlined to members of the Rotary Club by Dr. H. E. Young, superintendent of provincial health, yesterday at the weekly luncheon in the Empress Hotel.

Dr. Young presented a lucid explanation of the present situation and quoted figures substantiating his arguments in favor of expenditure towards prevention rather than the continuation of taxation for hospitals and other institutions devoted solely towards curing.

The speaker explained that authorities had now reached the stage where they realized that they were more concerned with sickness from an economic point of view rather than from the humanitarian side. Human beings were the most valuable asset of the country, he stated, and efforts should be devoted towards ensuring the race rather than in any other direction.

It was up to the people to try and introduce prevention and spread the burden of sickness over the community rather than upon those who formerly bore the cost of illness among the destitute, because they were the only ones who could pay.

First steps towards the inauguration of prevention schemes were taken by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in 1911, when that company invested $15,000,000 for the introduction of preventative measures. In three years the revenue for this investment was increased $22,000,000, he said.

HUMAN ASSETS After sketching the methods by which the company had determined the value of human life, Dr. Young said the public did not realize the human being was an asset.

"The actual value of the human asset is five times that of a material asset," he said. "And in order to avail ourselves of these assets we should adopt methods to conserve them."

During the Great War, when conscription was enforced, it was possible to take some stock of human assets. He pointed out that 33 per cent of Canadians were unfit for service, while Sir Arthur Currie had stated that 150,000 men had been sent overseas who never should have been. This was a condition which should never have existed and could be overcome by prevention, Dr. Young claimed.

The people of Canada were coming to a time when their material resources would be limited and they no longer dig into their pockets for the upkeep of hospitals and social services of the kind that served for curative purposes. These, he said, were now a serious drain on the country's resources.

In ten years British Columbia paid out $18,765,000 for hospitals and similar organizations (this amount not including that paid by cities and municipalities) which averaged $1,875,000 a year. In addition to this over the ten-year period there was a capital expenditure of $4,819,000. In 1932-33 the government paid out $2,460,000 and there was no capital expenditure, he continued.

These figures he cited as ample proof of the need for the conservation of the human asset. He pointed out that people would be well advised to give up criticism of government taxation and start at the other end with a campaign to correct these abuses and introduce conservation.

There was no unity on this opinion and for this reason the government could not enforce laws in this respect, he said, in urging the people to support the move.

EXTENDED LIFE He explained how prevention had lengthened the useful years of man's life. In 1911 and 1912 the average life of a man was 46.43 years. In 1932 this figure was 56.80, the increase being due solely to prevention measures.

Dr. Young spoke of the prevention courses carried on by the government in which nurses and doctors are taught more of prevention than curing methods.

He cited Spanish as an example, where the benefit of these courses had been felt. In 1928 Spanish paid $6,000 for isolation hospital costs, he said, while two of the seventeen schools had been closed. The loss in education had been inestimable.

Last year isolation costs were cut to $120 by the installation of a prevention unit, while there had not been a school closed. He pointed out that the prevention method was far more effective for a mother before childbirth, and then cared for the child until it was six years old.

Another drawback to Spanish had been the "retarders," those children born with physical defects such as deafness. In 1929 these retarders had cost the Spanish School Board $17,000, he said. In 1930 this was cut to $15,000, while in 1932 it had slipped to $600.

Prevention had reduced mortality by 37 per cent in British Columbia, he said. The death rate was down because children had been saved. Practically all diseases of childhood could be saved.

"You can easily reduce expenditure, but it is not the fact that it is in the government the means of enormous savings by enforcement of prevention laws. The principal of taxation is applied to education, why not apply it to health," concluded Dr. Young.

George McGregor introduced the speaker, and Charles H. French moved the vote of thanks.

WIFE SWEARS NAME FORGED

Leonora F. Minnie entered the witness box before Judge Lampman in the County Court to-day and testified her husband, John H. Minnie, had induced her to sign with him a chattel mortgage for $175 on property of which she was not the owner by assuring her "he knew what he was doing."

That, she testified, she did not see the proceeds from this mortgage as she had expected, but that her name had been forged on the cheque when it was endorsed for cashing at the bank. In answer to questions she told the court that just after that her husband left her and he has not been seen here or heard of since. Arising out of the mix-up, Henry Harcourt Curtis, who loaned the money, sued Noel W. Robinson for $250 he claimed he had lost so far. He claimed Mr. Robinson had failed to investigate the title of the mortgage to the chattels turned over as security.

It was decided that the young people would hold a parish dance some time in December, the proceeds to go to the church funds. Arrangements were left in the hands of the committee.

A letter was received from the local council telling of plans to organize a debating league among all the branches in the district. A meeting will be held in the near future, and Miss Margaret Holmes and Alan Gardner were chosen to attend this meeting. Letters were also received from Christ Church Cathedral Sunday School and the A.Y.P.A. announcing a dance.

Owing to the fact that Reg. Macdonald is out of town, a delegate to the local council was chosen to take his place, and an extra one elected, as desired by the local council. They are Miss Vic Day and Ray Redfield.

The next meeting will take the form of a mock parliament, with Neil Fraser in charge.

ST. MICHAEL'S A.Y.P.A.

Mr. Boothroyd, an enjoyable musical selection was given by the stringed trio. The tennis trophies won by members of the club last summer were presented by W. T. Strath and Tom Little.

The meeting, under the citizenship committee, took the form of a mock election and for an hour several candidates held forth in humorous campaign speeches. Many were dressed in keeping with the occasion. Although there was much heckling from the audience, the speakers covered themselves with glory. After the official election the successful candidates were congratulated and the meeting adjourned with the announcement that Donald Fraser was to be next week's speaker.

NOBLE CONVERTS JOIN JEWRY

Viscountess Erleigh For-swears Christianity and Leaves Church of England

Lord Melchett is Also Accepted into the Jewish Community

Special to The Victoria Daily Times London, Nov. 17.—Viscountess Edleigh, who has been received into the Jewish community, is a daughter of the first Lord Melchett (formerly Sir Alfred Mond) and sister of the present Lord Melchett, who was received into Jewry a few weeks ago.

She is a handsome woman, greatly interested in children's welfare and in modern methods of upbringing and is the wife of the heir to the Marquess of Reading, the former Viceroy of India.

She helped her father in many of his Zionist activities and although she herself was brought up in the Church of England, her contact with Jewry made her sympathetic to the Jewish world and she became interested in the ideals of the men and women who were striving to lead Israel back to the Promised Land, in the face of considerable hardships in modern Palestine.

From sympathy to actual conversion was but a step.

Some circles in London consider that the entry of first Lord Melchett and then of his sister into the Jewish community is a sign of the times and of the strong feeling which Hitler's anti-Jewish measures are arousing among many English intellectuals, but the fact is that both Lord Melchett and his sister have taken this step purely as the result of long-standing sympathy and not out of any desire to make a "counter-gesture to Germany"—which could hardly prove effectual, in any case.

It will be interesting to see, however, if some of the English intellectuals who are to be heard loudly proclaiming their hatred of Germany and their devotion to Israel in persecution, will go to the length of adopting the Jewish faith.

Such action, by say, the president of an Oxford college or a well-known politician might really prove of good propaganda value.

CHURCH COMPLAINT

La Habra, Calif., Nov. 17 (Associated Press).—Lusty-junged clergyman, Rev. C. F. Chambers, was under arrest here to-day on a charge of disturbing the peace on complaint of Mrs. Myra Hibbs, who said the minister had made "loud, unusual and unnecessary noise" in conducting his services at the Pentecostal Church.

Said the minister: "I do not believe it necessary for me or for members of my flock to whisper when we pray."

CONSTABLE GOT HIS MAN

Chicago, Nov. 17 (Associated Press).—Policeman Daniel Garrity knows how to get his man. Eduardo de Ramos, accused by police of posing as a doctor, broke away from custody, Garrity fired, struck the heel of de Ramos's left shoe and knocked his feet from under him. He was not hurt, but was recaptured.

Luxton

A meeting was held Tuesday evening in Luxton Hall when debentures, sold at the time of the erection of the new Luxton Hall, were drawn. George Duncan, chairman of the Luxton Hall committee presided. Debentures were drawn for Mrs. B. Brown, Mrs. W. Caton, Mrs. Heath, Master Harmon Croxley, L. B. Matthews and C. B. Budge, and three for the Luxton Athletic Club.

himself in the city jail here after police said he had "lifted" them along with other "jewelry" from a local five-and-ten-cent store.

CHAMBERS WERE UNLUCKY St. Paul, Nov. 17 (Associated Press).—Two lucky rabbit foot charms were found by Emmet Johnson. He found Kill that COLD!

Don't Merely Coddle It with Half-Way Measures!

A cold is nothing to trifle with! It may end seriously. A cold, being an internal infection, calls for an internal treatment. It also calls for a COLD remedy and not something good for a number of other things as well.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is expressly a cold remedy. It is direct and internal—and it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and "crispy" feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system.

Anything less than that is taking chances with a cold. Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is sold by all druggists, 30¢ and 50¢. Accept no substitute.

AIDS PREMIER DURING RUSH

Presence of Major Moodie Helps Premier Devote More Time to Office

Major S. F. M. Moodie, B.C. Liberal organizer, will act as assistant to Premier Pattullo until the congestion following the transfer from the Tolmie administration to the Liberal administration has been relieved. Premier Pattullo said today following criticism raised in some quarters. When he took over office, Premier Pattullo found himself without a secretary, an enormous amount of mail and many people to see. Major Moodie, with whom Premier Pattullo has been in close contact, is familiar with much of the work that the Premier had to have done, and with scores of people throughout the province who continue to send personal messages. Major Moodie had been relieving him of a greater part of the load during the election campaign, and was familiar with most of the unfinished business which had to be completed after the Premier had been called to take over the administration. Major Moodie's presence at the Parliament Buildings means that the Premier is relieved of a lot of work, and able to devote more time to the duties of his office, which are particularly heavy at this time.

The professor, who is accompanied by his wife, took the opportunity offered at the conclusion of the case to pay a visit to Victoria. He will leave at the week-end for Palo Alto to resume his duties at Stanford.

Thomas F. Johnson, Vancouver, has resigned as a justice of the peace, according to a notice in the current issue of The B.C. Gazette.

Do You Know?
How the term "Yellow streak" meaning a cowardly person, originated? Answer: In the southern states anyone whose white ancestry has been crossed with that of the negro blood is known as yellow. Therefore a "yellow streak" means he is not a thoroughbred.

Ms. John Antle Is Formally Welcomed

Lieut.-Governor Greets Capt. Antle and They Speak For Movietone News

Ship is Bright To-day With Pennants and Flowers; Will Be Open to Public

Gay with pennants and presenting a spick and span appearance, the new mission ship John Antle was formally welcomed to Victoria to-day, when Lieutenant-Governor J. W. Fordham Johnson boarded the craft at the Belleville Street docks at noon and extended greetings to Capt. the Rev. John Antle, head of the Columbia Coast Mission, who commanded the ship on her 14,000-mile voyage from London.

His Honor, who was accompanied by A. M. D. Fairbairn, private secretary, was welcomed aboard the John Antle by Capt. Antle and local members of the Columbia Coast Mission Board, including Bishop Schofield, Col. H. Goodhead, Raymond Jones, Bishop Lloyd of Saskatchewan, who has come to Victoria to live in retirement, was also present.

After a tour of inspection of the vessel, Lieutenant-Governor Johnson, Capt. Antle and members of the board assembled on the upper deck, where the Governor and Capt. Antle spoke for the movietone news.

"I congratulate you on bringing this ship on such a long voyage," His Honor said, as he shook hands with Capt. Antle. "The good work you are doing on the Coast of British Columbia is greatly admired."

"This little boat is going to be a great help to our work along the Coast," Capt. Antle said, in replying to His Honor's words of greeting. "I am sure you will be very pleased to be back in British Columbia, and I thank you most sincerely for your hearty welcome."

Later the five members of the crew, composed of R. V. A. Corbett R.N.R.; E. W. Souter, H. J. Connor, Oscar Nurse and R. Phillips, spoke for the movie cameras.

Since arriving here Tuesday afternoon members of the crew have been busy putting their craft in presentable shape after her long voyage, which started from London the first day of August. Damage was caused to the cabin and galley by heavy seas.

The water did considerable damage to interior furnishings, which had to be repaired before the ship could be thrown open to public inspection. Mrs. M. F. Purse Morrish of London, mother of Mr. Corbett, who is on her way to Canada, has been engaged during the last few days refurbishing the lounge. She has sewn torn upholstery and cleaned and polished the interior.

On board with chrysanthemums and roses, with which she decorated the lounge.

To-morrow and Sunday the John Antle will be open to public inspection and at 4 o'clock Monday morning she will leave for Vancouver.

PUBLIC VOICE ON BEACH SALE

New Minister of Lands Will Present Case to Persons Interested

A payment on the Crescent Beach land deal of roughly $1,000 as the first of ten payments was accepted by Joshua Hinchliffe as Minister of Lands today before the Tolmie Government went out of office. The transaction by which a mile of waterfront was to be sold to the company which W. C. Shelly, former Minister of Finance, was connected, is by no means completed, however. It was stated by Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, this morning.

Following the announcement of Premier Pattullo yesterday that day transactions in the drying hours of the last government would not be considered binding by the present government if they were found against the public interests. Mr. Gray is gathering full data on the beach deal.

The people most directly interested in the sale will have an opportunity to give their views on it, and these will be placed before the cabinet, Mr. Gray said. During the week-end he will meet the reeve of Surrey and representatives of people of New Westminster and Vancouver, who are interested in the popular bathing beach.

The subject, with the aid of maps, will be placed before them. Time will be given to secure a consensus of opinion, and from that the cabinet will decide if the deal is against the public interests.

Mr. Gray mentioned that an endorsement had been added with the closing of the deal which may have the effect of dampening the original enthusiasm of the prospective buyers to secure the land. It provided that the beach should be free at all times to the public, and no buildings should be erected except for the use of bathers.

AGED RESIDENT CALLED TO REST

Downard, also four grandchildren, and relatives in England.

CAR TREND IS STREAMLINE

Studebaker Leading Field in New Design, Says C. N. Galer of Walkerville

Improved Business Indicated With Return of Public Buying Confidence

Streamline design is the newest trend in automobiles, stated C. N. Galer, sales manager for the Studebaker Corporation of Canada Ltd., Walkerville, Ont., in announcing here to-day that his company is the first in the field on this continent in the production of the modern streamline car.

Mr. Galer reached the city this morning from Vancouver and spent most of the day in going into the details of the newest Studebaker models with R. J. Jameson, president of the Jameson Motors Ltd., local agents for the Studebaker Corporation.

"Reception by the public of the new car-models is particularly encouraging," said Mr. Galer in explaining the new Dictator, Commander and President.

A gradual upturn was to be noted in Ontario and Quebec and there were indications that a similar upturn would soon spread to the other provinces.

Mr. Galer, who is at the Empress Hotel, plans to leave by the night boat on his return to Walkerville.

Speaking of Studebaker sales, of which department he has control, Mr. Galer said: "Our October shipments in Canada and the United States were the best within the last five years for the month of October."

"In November, if we can shift all the orders on hand, we shall be able to record the best November we have ever had. We are very much elated about it."

Mr. Galer said that at the beginning of the month the firm had 7,500 unfilled orders, with production impeded to a certain extent by labor troubles.

With regard to general business conditions, he said there was definite indication of a return of buying confidence on the part of the public. While there was nothing in the shape of a boom, commodity prices were increasing and the outlook was better than it had been for some time.

Birthday Greetings Are Extended To-day To

WILLIAM ARDEN
ROBERT WARREN

Mr. Arden, who is Metcosh's eldest citizen, is celebrating the ninety-seventh anniversary of his birth at his home to-day. Until recently he has been in his usual good health, enjoying a game of whist or conversing about early times in the district. As an apprentice boy on a warship he was in the Crimean war and tells many interesting experiences of that engagement. He is one of the few survivors of that conflict. He was born in Middlewich, Cheshire, England, in 1836, where he resided until after his marriage, when he emigrated to Canada and for a time was located in the east. About forty years ago he took up and cleared the acres now occupied by his son, Percy Arden, slightly off Kangaroo Road. At that time the homestead was virgin forest, served by a trail winding through what are now the farms of Capt. Barclay and J. M. Milne. Transportation was a problem and many times Mr. Arden walked to and from the city of Victoria for necessary supplies. His wife passed away in 1926. They raised a family of three sons and three daughters. One son, James, was killed in the Great War.

Robert Warren celebrates his twenty-first birthday to-day. Bob, as he is known, was educated at the Sir James Douglas and Victoria High Schools. His chief hobby is gardening, although he occasionally goes fishing off Clover Point and at Saanich Inlet. He lives with his parents at 39 Cambridge Street.

Funeral services for Mrs. Hannah Richardson Payne, who passed away at her home at Goldstream on Thursday, will be held on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. Rev. S. Ryall will officiate and interment will be made in the Colwood Cemetery.

Members of the Victoria Little Theatre Association tried out their first mystery play yesterday evening—and they put it over. It was "The Jade God" by William E. Barry, a well-known production of the current professional stage.

To be any good at all a mystery play has to be well done. Its success depends upon the effect of a smooth and continuous acceleration in speed of the action towards the climax, along with a parallel rise of interest and tension on the part of the audience.

To achieve this the players must operate as a well trained drill team, with the sudden and frequent entrances and exits and stage motions timed to a split second. The audience that the smooth action does not realize the amount of hard work that must be put in in practice beforehand and behind the scenes during the act of production.

The work of the members of yesterday evening's company gave evidence of the earnestness with which they tackled it. As definite proof that it went over, one need only recall the spontaneous and unified jump with which the whole audience responded to the piercing scream of Miss Noel Cusack at one of the climactic points. The floor of the Shrine Auditorium shook with the force of a distinct and sudden bump.

PLAYERS DO GOOD WORK
Fraser Lister carried the sustaining role of the play. He was almost continuously on the stage. He has developed a good speaking voice and a responsible actor. The audience that the smooth action does not realize the amount of hard work that must be put in in practice beforehand and behind the scenes during the act of production.

WORKS POLICY IDEA SPREADS
Expected to Be Main Topic Before Conference of Canadian Premier

Heads of the Department of Industries and a Commissioner of Fisheries will be named soon, Premier Pattullo intimated this morning, and in this connection said the Department of Industries was an important department regarding which careful consideration of policy was necessary.

The constitution provides for the Minister of Industries to be sworn in to those duties although the head of it will be selected from the present cabinet.

The Commissioner of Fisheries may be named from the present cabinet without the formality of swearing in. Premier Pattullo was not prepared to say at this time who would be selected for the two posts.

The Premier this morning was interested in the report that a conference of premiers of the provinces of Canada was being planned for Ottawa after Christmas, when he would go armed with full information and definite recommendations. The many duties caused by the taking over of the administration made it difficult for him to leave soon. He also thought it would be short notice to other premiers throughout Canada to call a conference at a few weeks' notice.

Indications that the Dominion government had seen the necessity of placing men to work were taken as encouraging signs by the Premier.

Reg. Hayward will speak over Radio Station CFCT to-night at 6:45 o'clock.

Tottenham Spurs To Engage Leeds In Crucial Game

English Football Leaders Will Have W. Whitley Back on Rearguard

ARSENAL MEET LOWLY STOKE

Birmingham Have Ten Men Laid Up; Motherwell Oppose Airdrieonians

London, Nov. 17.—W. Whitley will be back at his old place on the fullback line in place of Young Channell, when Tottenham Hot-spurs step out, to-morrow, in an effort to keep their slim hold on first place in the first division of the English Soccer League.

Spurs tackle Leeds United on the latter's grounds, while the Arsenal, league champions, and Huddersfield, in separate fixtures, will strive for points that with a Spur defeat would knot up the leadership, for both Arsenal and Huddersfield are only a game behind Tottenham.

Arsenal look almost certain to pick up a couple of points to-morrow for they are on their own grounds against the lowly Stoke eleven. Furthermore, Hume, given a run yesterday against Cambridge, will likely reappear on the Gunners' attack in place of Hill, while Stoke have caused a sensation by dropping W. R. John, their Welsh international. Stoke are also changing their centre forward, bringing out Palethorpe, former Reading player. Portsmouth, traveling to Bristol Wednesday, will be without Allen, their English international, hurt in Wednesday's England-Wales match.

BIRMINGHAM UNLUCKY
The record for injuries, however, is held by the luckless Birmingham eleven this week. With no fewer than ten men forced out by illness or injury, the Brums will have to field an entire reserve team to entertain Sunderland.

Grimsbury Town and Port Vale deadlocked for second division leadership may get straightened out to-morrow. Port Vale entertaining the crack Bristol eleven, while Grimsby go to Bury, who are in second-last position. Fulham and West Ham, third placers, meet in a London "Derby" and Fulham will not pick their team until to-morrow, hoping to break a run of bad luck. Norwich City, southern section, third

W. G. Bramham Is Baseball Leader

Gaithersburg, Tex., Nov. 17.—The National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues yesterday re-elected W. G. Bramham, Durham, N.C., president, increased his term from one to five years and raised his salary from $6,000 to $8,500.

division leaders, clash with Charlton Athletic, grouped with four other teams just two points back of Norwich. Chesterfield, with a substantial lead in the northern section, expect to have no trouble at York City, but the second-place Stockport County eleven take on Middlesbrough in what promises to be a close battle.

Glasgow, Nov. 16.—Another victory for Motherwell, undefeated in Scottish league first division soccer battles this season, is taken for granted when they come up against Airdrieonians to-morrow. The victors are only four places from the bottom of the table.

Rangers, league champions, still four points away from Motherwell, expect to keep in step with the leaders at the expense of St. Johnstone. Aberdeen travel to Clyde and Ayr United, fourth place holders, entertain Glasgow Celtic.

Triple tie for leadership of the second division will probably be broken in to-morrow's encounters. Arbroath go to Dumbarton, Dunfermline are home to Leith Athletic and Glenhousemuir clash with the Montrose eleven.

NEW MEMBER OF RANGERS

crack right winger who has joined the New York Rangers in the National Hockey League this season. Carr came up from Buffalo of the International League. He finished fourth in scoring in the minor league last season and is regarded as a corner. Carr is a Western Canadian, played amateur at Calgary and turned pro with the Vancouver Lions.

SCOTT-PAINE SETS RECORD FOR SINGLE-ENGINE BOAT

New York, Nov. 17.—A special cable from London to The New York Times to-day credits Hubert Scott-Paine with establishing a new unofficial world record for a single-engine motorboat. He drove Miss Britain 411 over a mile course on Southampton water at 102.105 miles an hour against wind and tide, the cable says.

Scott-Paine himself made the previous record of 95.08 miles an hour at Poole in September after his unsuccessful challenge at Algonia, Mich., for the Harmsworth Trophy.

COOK BROTHERS AND BOUCHER STARS IN FORMER'S VICTORY

yesterday evening, defeating Detroit Red Wings, 2 to 1 in a fast, rough encounter. The defeat knocked Detroit out of the American division lead as Chicago defeated Ottawa to move ahead.

The Stanley Cup, emblem of the world championship which the Rangers won last spring, was officially presented to the club by Frank Calder, league president, between the first and second periods.

Jean Fuisie, new defence man of Rangers, made his debut to New York by displaying his capable fistic qualities. Broad-shouldered Jean tossed aside his black cap and padded gloves to exchange blows in the first period with Eddie Goodfellow, husky Detroit centre man. Little damage was done before the referees quelled the disturbance and banished the combatants, Fuisie with a major and a ten-minute misconduct, and Goodfellow with a major.

SUMMARY
First period—1, Rangers, F. Cook (Boucher and W. Cook), 10:57; 2, Rangers, W. Cook (Boucher), 13:14.
Penalties—Lewis, Fuisie two (major and ten-minute misconduct), Goodfellow (major).

Second period—No score.
Penalties—Carson (major), E. Seiber two, Young.

Third period—3, Detroit, Aurie (Gorrell), 5:21.
Penalties—Yoss, Aurie.
Referee—A. G. Smith and Bill Stewart.

Ottawa, Nov. 17.—Chicago Black Hawks took a tumble out of George Boucher's fast-stepping Ottawa Senators here yesterday evening, winning a hard-fought National Hockey League game, 2 to 1.

Paul Thompson put the Hawks ahead less than a minute after Referee Mike Rodden dropped the puck between the opposing centres' sticks to start proceedings. Before the period was over, Jerry Shannon, former Niagara Falls amateur, tied it with another solo goal. Art Coulter flashed the red light for the odd goal early in the second period after a scramble behind the Senators' nets.

SUMMARY
First period—1, Chicago, Thompson, 4:5; 2, Ottawa, Shannon, 8:20.
Penalties—Abel, March and Weiland.
Second period—3, Chicago, Coulter, 1:35.
Penalties—Leduc, McPadden and Thompson.
Third period—No score.
Penalties—Conacher, Thompson and Howe.
Referee—M. J. Rodden and George Mallinson.

Montreal, Nov. 17.—An overtime 2 to 2 tie before a small crowd of 2,500 fans yesterday evening left New York Americans still at the bottom of the Canadian section of the National Hockey League, with Maroons, their opponents yesterday evening, one point above them.

There was little excitement in a dull and spiritless game relieved at times by a smart goal-tending display by Dave Kerr, Maroons.

Hooley Smith, veteran Montreal centre star, scored both the Maroon goals and nearly scored several others.

SUMMARY
First period—No score.

Calgary Tigers To Have Smart Outfit

Manager Lloyd Turner Combines Youth With Experience in His Hockey Team

Five of Twelve Players Have N.H.L. Experience; Gainer to Lead Attack

Calgary, Nov. 17.—A less experienced team, on the basis of big house experience than Edmonton Eskimos, western Canada professional hockey champions last year, Calgary Tigers, who play their first game in the new Northwestern League against Vancouver Lions in the coast city, Monday, impress the statistician with age, height and weight.

A mere youngster of twenty-six, an average player on the Bengal line-up, would be able to muster 170 pounds from his five feet eleven inches of power, but only five of the twelve men lined up by Manager Lloyd Turner have played in National Hockey League circles.

The "Daddy" of them all is thirty-three-year-old Albert "Red" McCusker, a netminder in two title-winning Allan Cup teams, the sixth-eighth Battalion during the war and later with Vics for his home town, Regina. He has seen service with Chicago Black Hawks, St. Paul, Tulsa, Portland and Calgary.

GOOD DEFENSE
On the defence line Turner seems likely to field two Alberta boys, Johnny "Tiny" Houtbrege, giant of the team, who stand 6 ft. 2½ in and weighs 165 pounds, and Gordon "Tony" Savage. Other defenders are Frank Warsawski, youngster of the team at twenty-one, Bill Hutton and Leo Carbol.

The left wing berth may be filled by Henry "Smoky" Harris, Kenora, Ont., native who learned his hockey in Manitoba amateur circles and has played with Boston in the high ranks. Max Sutherland, Moose Jaw amateur with a season at Boston behind him, will alternate in the position.

On the right forward line Turner can use Louis Coupez, twenty-nine-year-old Winnipegper, who played amateur at Edmonton and then spent six years in remunerative hockey on the southern Pacific coast. George Scott Heard, Dauphin, Man., former Regina big six amateur and international League pro, also plays the right wing position.

And the apex of the Tiger rush is Norman "Dutch" Gainer, Crow's Nest amateur, who put in three years with Brandon Bruins and one with New York Rangers. With him in the centre-forward berth is Ralph "Spike" Blyth, Estevan, Sask., youth who played three years with Yorkton Juniors before he turned pro with Vancouver.

WANT MARKS RECOGNIZED

A.A.U. Seeks International Recognition For Records of Two Canadians

Winnipeg, Nov. 17.—The Amateur Athletic Union of Canada yesterday took steps to win international recognition of world-equaling records made by Phil Edwards, Hamilton, Ont., and Hilda Strike, Montreal.

Edwards, running at Hamilton, covered 660 yards in 1 minute 20.3 seconds, to establish a Canadian record and equal the mark set by Homer Baker, New York. No previous Canadian record for the distance previously had been recognized, but the union, in annual convention here, decided to accept it.

Miss Strike's Canadian record of 7.8 seconds for the fifty metres dash, set by her at an athletic meet in Edmonton, brought lengthy discussion. The union finally asked the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation to recognize the question with a view to seeking international recognition. The time equalled the world's record, held by Stella Walsh, of Poland.

Officials of the union pointed out they could take no step in regard to Strike's achievement, because no recommendation had come from the Alberta branch, under whose jurisdiction the race was run, or from Miss Strike's home club. Records of the race officials were in order, but it was pointed out that Miss Strike made six false starts and had not run in the preliminary heats.

Junior Football
Matches scheduled to-morrow for junior football teams follow:
Jokers vs. Royal Oak at Bullen Park. Referee, F. Saunders.
James Island vs. Esquimalt at Central Park. Referee, W. Cull.

Oaklands vs. North Saanich at Spencer's Park. Referee, P. J. Woodley. All games start at 2.30 o'clock.

The first two mentioned matches are in the second round of the Lower Island Cup, while the third is a league fixture.

MEDICAL EDUCATION
To the Editor:—The Medical World, October 6, contains an article entitled: "Reflections on Medical Education," by G. F. Walker, M.D., honorary physician and consultant to the Royal Infirmary, Sunderland, England. One can only quote briefly from this article, which is devastating in its criticism of the medical education of the present day.

"They get a very skimpy and scrappy presentation of the real problems of personal and family health, and they get no guidance whatsoever as to the processes whereby disease and decay gain an inroad into the human body, nor of the bulwarks against, and impediments to, these processes. If any knowledge of drugs is imparted to them, it is usually of a singularly impractical nature. As for a knowledge of foodstuffs, and diet, the senior students' ignorance of this branch of biology would be laughable were it not a national menace."

One of the most important criticisms regarding the teaching of physiology is this: "And this brings me to the heaviest indictment which I have to make against medical education. All through the student's years there is impressed upon him, mostly by interested and subsidized teachers, that knowledge of the human body can only be learned by the contemplation and practice of experiments on animals. Now I know quite well that experiments upon animals are condemned, right and left, on emotional, moral and ethical grounds. For the present, I have no concern with these arguments, sound as they are. My own conviction is that the study of human physiology by way of experiments upon animals is the most grotesque and fantastic error ever committed in the whole range of human intellectual activity. And like all such errors, it is defended by its adherents, either by emotional, or by muddle-headed fanaticism, or by a cankerous petulance. Yet these are presented to the student as an altruistic and open-minded search for truth. The fact is that most students, though they do not realize it, are intellectually crippled for life if once they are persuaded to take more than a perfunctory interest in physiology as taught in the formal medical curriculum. One of the saddest things one can see is the spectacle of a young student, otherwise lively, reasonable and sensible, passionately defending experiments upon animals, because his teachers, financially interested in such experiments, use their positions and personalities to impress their perversion on him."

Dr. Walker, in an effort to suggest some means of reform, advises that "medical men who are sincerely striving for improvement in medical education should seek allies among the lay public." Such advice, coming from the ranks of the medical profession, is interesting, because the tendency is to assume that laymen are incapable of intelligently expressing opinions on medical subjects.

Acids In Stomach Cause Indigestion
Create Sourness, Gas and Pain
How To Treat
Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any drugstore some Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder form—never liquid or milk) is harmless, inexpensive, and is a fine remedy for acid stomach. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no fear of indigestion. (Adv.)

Lumber Business Shows Improvement

West Coast Association Receives Largest Volume of Trade Since May, 1930

Some Lumbermen Expect Slump During Coming Week, Due to Advance Buying

Seattle, Nov. 16.—Lumber mills reporting to the West Coast Lumbermen's Association for the week ending November 11 reported the largest volume of business, 180,237,825 feet, of any week since May, 1930, the association said today. The new business report covered 409 mills.

The association believed the extraordinary buying was "a last minute rush to the bargain counter before November 11, the effective date of the minimum prices established by the lumber code authority for Douglas fir and west coast hemlock."

"Some lumbermen look for a slump during coming weeks, due to the advance buying and the lack of building," the association remarked. "Others believe firm prices under the lumber code provisions will stimulate both stock carrying and distributors and construction of kinds using lumber. Normally, the period just before the holidays is quiet."

The association reported that production was reported by 471 down and operating mills over the previous week. The figure was 93,806,101 feet. The average week's production this year has been 85,974,563 feet, last year 66,817,876 feet.

Shipments of 409 mills were ten per cent. under production and current sales were 114 per cent. over production. The orders booked were 92.4 per cent. higher than the previous week. The unfilled orders file stood at 400,886,540 feet, an increase of about 100,000,000 feet from the week before.

Enforcement of an old state law by the Department of Labor and Industries began today with the appointment of Capt. Howell Parker, Seattle, as State Marine Inspector.

A fee of five dollars for all licenses and a vessel inspection charge of from five dollars to twenty dollars is provided by the law, passed twenty-two years ago. Nearly all towboats operating on Puget Sound will come under the law, which applies to all craft under hire and not subject to federal inspection. Fishing vessels, yacht and other pleasure crafts are not affected.

About 300 vessels will come under the law. John M. Fox, secretary of the Masters, Mates and Pilots' organization said marine workers will welcome enforcement of the law.
